COUNTER ATTACKS MADE BY GERMANS

Gains On Other Sectors Counter-Balance Loss Of Port Reds Report

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Feb. 3.—Loss of the southeast Crimean Port of Theodosia was admitted by the Soviet high command today in a communique which acknowledged that Nazi counter-attacks had spread to several sectors of the front.

But at most points, it was stated, the Red armies still retain the initiative.

Nazis In Big Effort

Latest reports from the front said the Nazis, in a supreme effort to stem the swift Russian advances, were launching violent counter-attacks on various sectors of the front.

But these advices related the Russians were successfully repelling the German assaults and inflicting heavy losses on the Nazis.

The Soviet air force in a single day was credited with destroying two German infantry battalions, six tanks and a "vast amount of munitions and trucks.'

A new war communique said fighting continued all night.

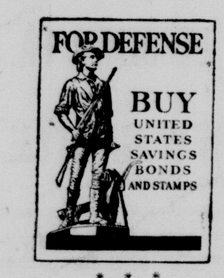

The London Daily Express said 20 picked German divisions which have been resting in the former

MacArthur's Forces Repel New Invasion Efforts Of Japanese

By JOSEPH A. BORS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported to the war department today that his American-Philippine forces had repelled two more savage Japanese invasion efforts.

Latest dispatches from MacArthur indicated savage fighting on land, during which the defenders launched a successful counter attack, while American pursuit planes and artillery fire smashed an invading convoy on the west coast of Bataan.

Heartening news was the fact that MacArthur's comparatively small air force still was able to take the air and inflict serious damage on the invader.

The war departments communique pointed out that the planes now are taking the air at night.

Boats Are Attacked

It was stated further that MacArthur's troops had inflicted "heavy casualties in men and boats' on the Japanese.

Japan's Naval Strength Being Cut Down By Steady U. S. Attacks

By JOSEPH A. BORS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—With American land, sea and air forces increasing the tempo of their scattered but deadly counter blows, a recapitulation of Japanese warship losses indicated today that 20 to 25 percent of Nippon's total naval strength has been destroyed or damaged since the start of the Pacific conflict.

In the wake of reports that United States "flying fortresses" had flown to the aid of the British at Singapore and the Dutch in Borneo, an unofficial survey of Japanese naval losses disclosed that 50 to 60 Rising Sun warships and submarines have been sunk or crippled since Dec. 7.

Meanwhile, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's hard-pressed warriors clung tenaciously to the lower half of the Bataan Peninsula in the face of overwhelming odds as the navy

Taxi Driver Has Legs Crushed In Freak Accident

Taxi Is Sandwiched Between Two Trains, Driver Trapped, Traffic Stopped

(International News Service)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 3.—Robert Timm, a taxi driver, his legs crushed in the wreckage of his cab sandwiched between a passenger and a freight train, today tied up traffic on the Alton railroad while desperate efforts were made to extricate him alive.

Behind the two stalled trains other trains massed in both directions as the efforts of workmen to pry the wreckage apart without further injuring Timm proceeded. At 3 a. m. he will still trapped.

The accident occurred shortly after 2 a. m. when the cab was caught between the moving Chicago bound passenger train and the standing freight train.

As the work proceeded Timm's screams were silenced by physicians who were called to the scene and administered opiates. He remained conscious, however

BERNE, Feb. 3—An admission that the sudden advent of frigid weather took Adolf Hitler completely by surprise and compelled him to retreat without adequate defensive preparations was made today by Mjacques Doriot, French Fascist leader.

In a speech at the Velodrome D'Hiver in Paris launching a new campaign for possible official French participation in the Nazi war against Russia, Doriot pointedly warned his hearers that a Soviet victory, and subsequent Soviet occupation of Europe, "would be worse than the German."

WAR BULLETINS

(International News Service)

NEW DELHI, India, Feb. 3.—Chinese troops have repelled a Japanese offensive 30 miles west of Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi province, according to a report broadcast by the New Delhi radio today.

Nanchang is situated 200 miles east of Changsha, scene of a great Japanese defeat several weeks ago.

In the Nanchang region battle, the radio report stated, more than 300 Japanese were killed.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—A Moscow radio broadcast picked up in London said today that Soviet forces have recaptured an important locality, identified as "V," on the Moscow front.

The broadcast said 1,000 Germans were killed when the town was retaken.

It was thought possible the broadcast might refer to the important stronghold of Vyazma.

Expect 800,000 Will Register

Pennsylvania Plans For Third Draft Registrations On February 16

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 3—Pennsylvania Selective Service officials today were making elaborate plans to facilitate the registration of an estimated 800,000 men between the ages of 20 and 45 on Feb. 16.

To safeguard the flow of production in defense industries, workers in large plants were to be given opportunity to sign up while they work. Registrars will be assigned to factories to enroll defense workers during their lunch periods, between shifts and even while working.

Approximately 50,000 volunteer clerks were used to enroll 1,200,000 men on the first registration day, Oct. 16, 1940, and it is believed that a number equally as large will be utilized Feb. 16. Special registration stations will be set up at colleges, universities and large schools.

Given approval of local draft boards, department stores and other large business establishments in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh may be permitted to swear in a number of their employes to take registrations. Transients will be accommodated at special stations set up in airports, bus and rail terminals throughout the state.

Need Volunteer Registrars

Clark Gable On Extended Vacation

(International News Service)

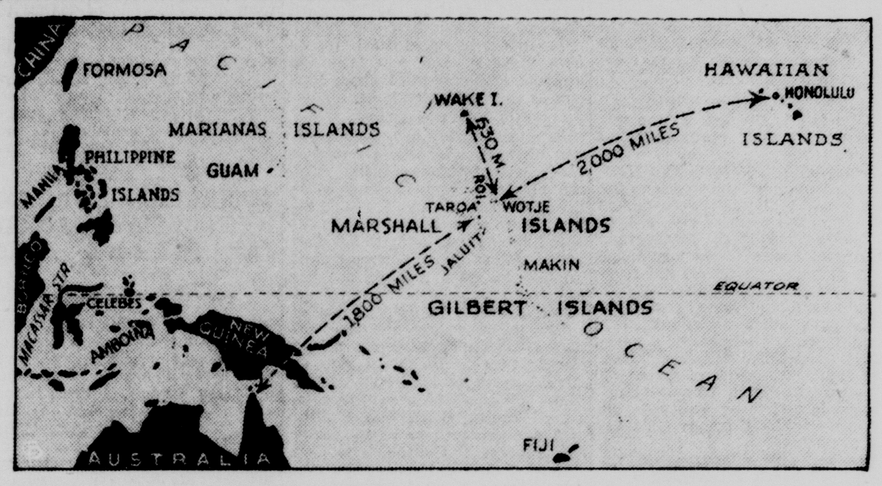

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 3. — Still shaken over death of his wife, Carole Lombard, in a Nevada plane crash, Clark Gable today motored to Oregon for an extended vacation.

"He just decided to get away from it all and packed up and left," Gable's studio said.

The film star was accompanied only by his chauffeur, the studio reported.

It was believed that Gable will resume his screen career when he returns from the Oregon trip. Studio executives previously had announced that production on his next picture, titled "Somewhere I'll Find You," would be resumed whenever Gable decides to return to work.

United States Pacific Fleet Carries War To Japs

Answer to the question, "Where's the Pacific Fleet?" was supplied by the thundering guns and roaring planes of the fleet itself when the navy announced that units had raided the Japanese-controlled Marshall and Gilbert islands, 2,000 miles southwest of Hawaii. Bombing Raid In New Guinea

Some Concern Is Manifested By Australia Over Attack

(International News Service)

MELBOURNE, Feb. 3.—Reports of a Japanese bombing raid on Port Moresby, Eeastern New Guinea, caused alarm in Melbourne tonight although no casualties or heavy damage were reported.

Australian circles felt the Japs might attempt a landing at Port Moresby, duplicating the methods followed in the occupation of Rabaul.

Over 100,000 Volunteer For Navy Service

Enlistment Rush Started When U. S. Entered War December 7

BULLETIN
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—A total of 100,000 men have voluntarily joined the navy since America entered the war Dec. 7, the navy department disclosed today.

Rear Admiral Randall Jacobs chief of the Bureau of Infestivation, said that "this spontaneous rush of young Americans to volunteer to join the navy is an indication of the patriotic spirit in the hearts of the people of this country."

Figures of the eight-week period, starting with Japan's onslaught upon Pearl Harbor, show that the navy recruiting service has produced an average of 1,786 enlistments each day.

The navy said that there has been "no let up in the rush to join".

Recruiting, however, will continue without curtailment, the navy said, emphasizing "there is a great need for man-power to round out the 500,000-men navy authorized by congress".

Says Women Will Soon Be Working In War Industries

By GRIFFING BANCROFT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, today warned the nation that it faces a serious man shortage, and that "a large percentage" of women soon will find themselves working in war industries.

Testifying before the Tolan defense migration committee of the house, Hershey declared that he is "frightened at the philosophy of abundance" that pervades the nation.

"I hear of the great supplies of men we are supposed to have and it frightens me," he asserted. "We haven't plenty of men.

"There is also talk of abundance of superiority, of how we are better than the enemy, man for man That's all very fine, but it shouldn't be allowed to get too far."

Hershey promised that neither agriculture nor industry will be crippled by the draft and that "hundreds of thousands of limited service men" will be placed in vital jobs along with the women.

The army soon will ask for a bill to provide compulsory allotments, payable partly by the soldier and partly by the government, to care for wives and children left at home, Hershey declared.

Eastern Counties To Have Blackout

One Of Most Important Blackouts In American History Will Take Place Tonight

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3.—Philadelphia and seven adjoining counties will be plunged into complete darkness for 15 minutes tonight in the most extensive and one of the most important blackouts ever attempted in America.

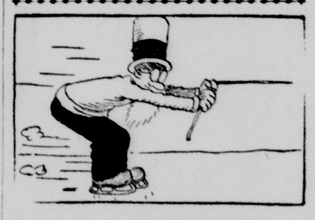

From 10:30 to 10:45 p. m. the eyes of the nation will focus on a 3500-square mile area involving 3,000,000 persons in Philadelphia, Bucks, Chester, Delaware and Montgomery counties in Eastern Pennsylvania, and Camden, Burlington and Gloucester couties in Southern New Jersey.

Uncle Sam's future policy in defending vital defense industries and shipyards from Axis bombers will stem from lessons learned tonight. Blackouts will be called from now on without advance warning, it was pointed out.

In Philadelphia alone 52,000 civilian defense workers, including 27,000 air-raid wardens, 8,000 auxiliary police and 6,000 auxiliary firemen, will be on duty. Virtually all vehicular traffic will halt during the drill.

Americans Thrilled By Fleet's Attack On Jap Island Bases

By CAPTAIN JOHN H. CRAIGE
U. S. Marine Corps, Retired.
Written Especially For International News Service

Sweetest news to Americans since the Japanese stab in the back assault on Pearl Harbor was that brought by dispatches telling of the U. S. fleet's attacks on Nippon's bases in the Marshall islands. Citizens everywhere were thrilled by Admiral Nimitz's statement that the navy will henceforth carry the war to the enemy's front door until that door is battered in and Japan is crossed off the list of Axis belligerents.

By its fighting sally, our fleet went back to the tactics of aggressive warfare which have been a navy tradition since the days of John Paul Jones. Thus, in striking fashion, the fleet has given the lie to defeatist rumors that damage done by Japan in her sneak-punch was so heavy that no attacking power remained.

A fleet without hitting power and highly developed offensive spirit cannot travel more than 2,000 miles in secrecy, deliver a strategic wallop and steam back to its bases with little damage to its ships and comparitively small losses to its bombing planes.

From accounts thus far released, the Marshall islands naval operation bears all the ear-marks of a raid in force, exploratory of the possibilities of the type of cruiser-airplane-submarine warfare for which the state of the vast Pacific battlefield seems set.

Different Warfare

This is a notably different sort of war from the conventional type of naval conflict which marked World War I and the present struggle in European waters. Conventional naval doctrines follow the lines laid down by Nelson and reduced to written logic by Admiral Mahan, great naval writer of the U. S. Navy. Aim of this kind of war is to defeat the enemy's main fleet by action of one's own heavy vessels.

In the case of the present war in the Pacific, it will be almost impossible to bring the main U. S. fleet

Auto Rationing Plan May Be Extended

Report Auto Rationing Program Is Delayed To February 26

STATE BOARD IS AWAITING ORDERS

By JOHN PAGET
International News Service
Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Feb. 3.—Rationing of automobiles, automotive equipment and retreaded tires, as well as new tires and tubes, was forecast today by the state council of defense.

Automobile rationing, scheduled to go into effect yesterday, was reported postpond until February 26, according to the office of price administration. New cars purchased but not delivered prior to the government's order freezing automobile stocks on January 1 will be released after February 12.

No Instructions Yet

The state rationing board explained it had not received any instruction on plans to ration re-treaded tires and automotive equipment but understood "they were in the offing."

The defense council revealed it had been instructed by T. Elmer Transeau, state rationing administrator, "to make necessary plans to have rationing boards in Pennsylvania handle automobile rationing, tire re-treading, and any other rationing in the automotive field."

The board indicated it had no knowledge whether the strict priorities system regulating issuance of new tires and tubes would extend to re-treaded tires.

The car rationing program called for the release of all cars held by dealers by the end of 1942, excepting vehicles to be taken over by the government. Officials added that the period between February 12 and February 26 would permit dealers to dispose of cars purchased before January 1.

Quotas Ample

Meanwhile, the rationing board revealed that none of the state's 422 local boards had asked Transeau to boost the January quota of new tires and tubes for passenger cars—indicating that most quotas were ample.

Transeau stated, however, that local boards were instructed to segregate all applications received during January from "eligible classifications" for which they would have issued certificates had the month's quotas not been exhausted. Under existing tire rationing regulations established by the O. P. A., a balance of new tires and tubes cannot be carried from one month to another.

Transeau also stated that "previous instructions regarding tires and tubes for trucks of beer distributors had been misunderstood."

Recently federal authorities ruled that beer and mineral waters were to be considered finished products—the same as milk. The regulations covering the eligibility for obtaining new tires ruled out door-to-door deliveries of all commodities.

vasion attempt repelled by MacArthur's forces in the past few days. Previously, point-blank artillery fire concentrated on an undisclosed number of Jap barges on the east coast of Bataan in Manila Bay and smashed the enemy.

MacArthur's successful defense of his position in the Philippines followed daring raids by American flying fortresses on Japanese airfields in Malaya and Borneo, in moves apparently designed to help the British forces defending Singapore and the Dutch defense of the East Indies.

On land, MacArthur's forces still are holding savagely to their lines now pushed down to the half-way mark on Bataan Peninsula. In one counter attack reported today the valiant defenders over-ran three lines of enemy trenches, "capturing considerable equipment."

During the past week, MacArthur's American-Filipino soldiers have crushed, captured, slaughtered or driven into the sea some of the best units sent against them since the original Japanese attack more than two months ago.

Official Communique

Following is the text of the war department's 90th communique of the war:

"Philippine Theater: Two Japanese attempts to land troops on the west coast of Bataan were broken up during the night of Feb. 2, 1942.

"The first raid by the Tatori group of special shock troops was made early in the evening. This was frustrated by our artillery fire.

"A second and more serious attempt was made at midnight. A large number of barges under naval escort approached the west coast. The raid was discovered by a few of our night flying pursuit planes which immediately attacked the convoy with light bombs and machine gun fire.

"As the enemy approached the shore, our beach defense force attacked with artillery and machine guns. The Japanese force suffered heavy casualties in men and boats. On the following morning, a number of disabled barges were found along the beaches. Some of these were burning and others were adrift. None of the invading group reached shore.

"Ground operations on our left flank were of a minor character. The frontal pressure of the Japanese 16th (Kimura) division in this sector relaxed. Some enemy pockets were found where isolated groups of Japanese soldiers are being mopped up.

"On our right where Gen. Nara's 65th division had previously attempted, by a frontal attack, to drive a wedge between our forces, we made a successful counter attack. Our troops overran three lines of enemy trenches capturing considerable equipment.

"During the past 24 hours, there has been moderate enemy air activity in support of the ground action.

"In the recent fighting in the Philippines, Brig. Gen. Clinton A. Pierce, (Sierre Madre, Cal.) United States Army, was slightly wounded in action.

"There is nothing to report from other areas."

JAPAN'S NAVAL STRENGTH CUT DOWN BY U. S. ATTACKS

awaited a complete report from its Pacific fleet on the surprise sea and air raid on six Jap islands in the mid-Pacific.

Japan's Losses Significant

In the light of recent events, Japanese naval losses since the start of the war took on a deeper significance in the opinion of war experts, although they warned aganist over optimism which might lead to an underestimation of Nippon's reserve striking power.

It was officially estimated in Washington that Japan had 260 warships and submarines when the war began. The same sources interpret that as a result of the damage done by American and United Nation forces the Mikado's navy has been whittled down to four-fifths or possibly three-fourths of its original fighting strength.

While the 200-odd Jap warships still in fighting trim comprise a formidable threat in the Far East, analysts point out that the Pacific Axis partner has paid dearly for its blitz victories, and add that the losses undoubtedly will hamper Nippon as the conflict endures.

Losses Estimated

American army and navy communiques place Japanese losses at the hands of Yankees alone at 15 warships sunk and 14 damaged in little less than two months of fighting. Advices from the south Pacific indicate that Netherlands East Indies forces have destroyed and crippled an equal number, boosting the grand total to between 50 and 60 wiped out or in need of repairs.

The losses do not include "numerous" auxiliaries sunk by the Pacific fleet in its recent raid on the Marshall and Gilbert Islands. Many of the Japanese ships reported destroyed in the surprise raid were believed to be submarine supply ships and seaplane tenders.

Neither do the figures cited take into account troop transports and other vessels sunk. To date, American forces have sunk 53 Japanese ships of all types, while the Dutch have accounted for at least 54.

Nippon warship losses at the hands of American forces, as reported in army and navy communiques were: One battleship sunk, three damaged badly; two cruisers destroyed, two crippled; five destroyers sunk, six hit; five submarines sunk, one hit; one gunboat and one minesweeper sunk, and one seaplane tender and one aircraft carrier damaged (the latter torpedoed and "probably sunk.")

Transports Sunk

In addition, the Americans destroyed a total of 23 trroop transports and scored hits on at least eight others. That makes the Japanese loss total 53 vessels of all types destroyed and 22 damaged, or 75 in all put out of commission forever or for months to come.

Before the war, Japanese naval strength was estimated in Washington at 10 battleships, eight aircraft carriers, 46 cruisers, 125 destroyers and 71 submarines, or a total of 260. At least 38 of all types also were known to be under construction.

What makes the picture more serious for the Japanese, experts say, is the fact that the enemy does not have the capacity to replace losses at anywhere near the rate United States now is building warships and merchant vessels and does not have the shipyard capacity to make major repairs quickly even if vessels do get back to their bases.

Also significant is the fact that United Nations naval units have been conserving their numerically inferior units by employing hit-and-run tactics. American naval losses have been negligible since Pearl Harbor.

MacArthur's Defense Worries

MacArthur's "bulldog" defense of the Philippines has added much to Japan's mounting, though still far from serious, was woes because it has immobilized a tremendous army which could be used advantageously in the siege of Singapore or the invasion of the south Pacific points.

Not only have MacArthur's forces been holding out on the lower half of Bataan and on four island forts at the entrance of Manila Bay, but during the past week they have taken a heavy toll of the enemy while repulsing frontal and flank attacks. Yesterday the defenders reported they had killed, captured or driven into the sea some of Japan's best forces.

At the same time, American heavy bombers winged over Malaya to bomb Jap air bases at Kuala Lumpur and Kuantan, 150 miles north of embattled British Singapore. While poor visibility prevented an accurate estimate of damage caused, it was believed the raids helped distract the Japs from their assault on the island fortress.

Meanwhile other bombers sped to Borneo to bomb Japanese positions and ships at Balik Papan but were intercepted by pursuit planes. In the fight that ensued, one U. S. bomber was lost and nine enemy fighter planes shot down.

Tons Of Rubber Being Wasted Says Expert

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—William O'Neil, president of the General Tire and Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio, asserted today that tons of rubber are being wasted every day because "hysteria and panic have caused thousands of motorists to rush to their tire dealers for recapping."

O'Neil urged motorists to refrain from having their tires retreaded until informed by an expert that the work was actually needed.

"In many instances," he said, "these tires have contained thousands of miles of good rubber. It is as important to save this processed rubber as it is to save crude rubber in the stockpile."

He pointed out that there are two definite supplies of rubber in this country. One, he said, is in the form of a stockpile of 600,000 tons of crude rubber, and the other in the form of finished tires consisting of a minimum of 600,000 tons.

"Recapping," O'Neil stated, "must be handled by trained experts experienced in the recapping business because amateurs could well waste much more rubber than they could possibly save."

of superdreadnaughts to bear on the big ships of the Japanese navy until a bridgehead of bases has been built far eastward towards the Nipponese main islands, or towards some all important point that the Mikado's navy must risk decisive battle to defend.

But meantime, there is the vast network of Japanese communication lines, each vital to one or more of her numerous expeditionary forces now battling in China, Malaya, Burma, the Dutch East Indies and the Philippines. Total length of these lines has been estimated at 15,000 miles. These offer a tempting target for raids. Sufficient destruction inflicted on cargo ships employed on them will bring collapse of Japan just as surely as defeat of the Mikado's superdreadnaughts.

Seen As Feint

Unquestionably the raid by the American fleet was a feint against the supply lines of Japanese forces that have been working down east of New Guinea towards the Australian coast line. If this is a big force, it would constitute a threat to Australia. Probably the U. S. navy knows by now just about how big a threat it is.

The Marshall Islands raid seems to have been conducted by a force of from four to six heavy cruisers and one or two airplane carriers, with accompanying destroyers and light craft. Probably they left Hawaii about Thursday, as it would take a trifle more than three days to steam to the Marshalls at 25 miles an hour, a reasonable cruising speed.

The destroyers and scouting aircraft of such a fleet would cover a front probably 200 to 300 miles wide and observation planes would range at least 300 miles ahead to preclude the possibility of surprise and to spy out enemy objectives. One of the missions of the fleet was unquestionably to find out how much bomber force the Japs had on their island bases. Apparently, this was not extremely large, otherwise the cruisers would not have been justified in venturing near enough to use their guns.

Numerous ships, planes and munitions dumps were reported destroyed by air bombardment and cannonading from the sea. Strange fact is that not a single Japanese submarine is mentioned and yet Nippon's island bases afford ideal lurking-places for U-boats.

Navy reports do not mention scouting by long-range planes, but these were probably present. From the point where the fleet went into action, PBY patrol bombers could scout the seas for 1,000 miles into Japanese territory.

Statements and opinions herein are private to the writer and are not to be construed as reflecting the views of the navy department.

BOMBING RAID IN NEW GUINEA

a spring-board for attacks on Port Darwin, Noumea and the Fiji Islands.

Possession of Noumea would put the Japs in a position to attack Sydney, Melbourne and Newcastle.

Alarm over the situation was tempered somewhat by jubilation over news of successful attacks by the United States navy on Gilbert and Marshall Islands.

The "scorched earth" policy was neglected and clothing, food and water suplies left intact when inhabitants abandoned the New Britain island Port of Rabaul to the Japanese, it was reported today.

The administrative bodies of Rabaul gave no instructions for the destruction of installations supplies or buildings in the area, refugees from the port said.

Soviet Advance Near Dnieper River

Deaths of the Day

Henry Albert Plant.

Complications following a short illness resulted in the death of Henry Albert Plant, 21 West North street, who passed away Monday at noon at the residence.

Mr. Plant was born in Bronwich, England, the son of William and Harriet Hicken Plant, and came to America when he was six years of age. He was a member of St. Mary's church. Formerly a steel worker at the Carnegie-Illinois mill, Mr. Plant retired eight years ago.

One sister, Miss Mary Plant of this city, and one brother, Bernard Plant of Buffalo, N. Y., survive.

The body has been removed to the A. Darrell Burke funeral home, 319 North Jefferson street, where the family will receive friends this evening and Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Robert Agnew Martin

Robert Agnew Martin, aged 79, of Harlansburg, passed away Monday afternoon after about a month's illness.

Mr. Martin, born April 1, 1862, in Scott township, a son of Thomas and Margaret Thompson Martin, had spent all his life in the Harlansburg community. He was a member of Harlansburg Presbyterian church. His wife preceded him in death nine years ago.

A number of nieces and nephews survive.

Funeral services are to be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the McClelland funeral home, Harlansburg, with Rev. Robert Thomas, retired, in charge. Interment will be in Harlansburg cemetery.

Mrs. Lottie Bristow.

Mrs. Lottie Bristow, aged 66, of 801 Broadway street, Farrell, died in the New Castle hospital this morning at about 10:30 o'clock.

The body has been removed to the Capitola funeral home, East North street, where friends may call Wednesday afternoon and evening.

The complete obituary and funeral arrangements will be published tomorrow.

Mrs. Myrtle Cook Brown

Mrs. Myrtle Cook Brown, wife of Alfred H. Brown of Wampum, passed away in the Ellwood City hospital at 11:25 this morning.

Funeral details will be given tomorrow.

Taylor Funeral Time.

Funeral services for Charles Taylor, Lawrence County home, will be conducted this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the R. L. Boyd funeral home, North Jefferson street, with Dr. G. S. Bennett, First Christian church pastor, in charge.

Interment will be in Graceland cemetery.

Shook Funeral.

Dr. J. J. McIlvaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, conducted funeral services Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for Jacob C. Shook, 105 Quest street, at the Joseph S. Rice Co. chapel, East North street.

Pallbearers were members of the Loyal Order of Moose, W. L. Ringer, T. A. Dunn, J. Quehel, D. Woods, F. DeFivie and E. Yoho. There was a bodyguard at the chapel.

At the grave in Oak Park cemetery, military services were conducted by members of Neshannock Post, No. 315, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Those taking part were Frank Sergeant, John Gallick, Joseph Lane, Frank Flynn, Norman E. Minner, Harry Frazier and Mike Sopkovich. Herbert Silverman was the bugler.

Tucker Services.

Funeral services for L. A. Tucker, New Bedford, were held from Hopewell Presbyterian church, New Bedford, Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the pastor, Dr. R. W. Veach, officiating.

Pallbearers were Harold and Ira Swisher of New Castle, J. Hunt, David Kyle and Sharp Fullerton of Mt. Jackson, and Clarence Neal, New Bedford. Interment was in Evergreen cemtery.

Because of the weather, grange services were conducted at the church instead of at the cemetery as is the custom. These services were in charge of Past State Master J. Audley Boak and Rev. A. D. Anderson, chaplain of New Bedford Grange.

Martin Funeral.

Largely attended funeral services for Burr Bell Martin, Wampum, were conducted Monday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock from the Marshall funeral home, Wampum, with Rev. Alfred J. Hill, pastor of the Ellwood City Free Methodist church, in charge.

Appropriate numbers were sung during the services by Miss Gladys Weigle, Mrs. Esther Fox and Mrs. Mildred Shannon.

Pallbearers were Harrison Bessel, Frank Goff Charles Abert, John Welty, Lester Kuiken and Walter Vogler.

Interment was in Clinton cemetery.

Mrs. Lytle Services

Funeral services for Mrs. Grover C. Lytle, 640½ East Washington street, were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, with Rev. E. T. Wyler, pastor of the Crawford Avenue United Brethren church, in charge.

During the services three selections were sung by Mrs. Della Hagerty and Mrs. Anna Stevenson.

Pallbearers were Robert Black, J. F. Marietta, Robert Betker, Herbert Noss, Lorenza Smith and Vernon Smith.

Interment was in Castle View Burial Park.

MORE JAP TRANSPORTS SUNK BY U. S. PLANES

air bombardment of Surabaya resulted in damage to naval establishments and that some damage also was inflicted on aircraft lying in the water.

Twenty-Six Bombers

The Japanese attack occurred during the morning.

Twenty-six Japanese bombers, escorted by fighters, carried out sweeping raids on the airports of Surabaya, the Netherlands East Indies chief naval base, and also on airports in other towns in the eastern part of the island of Java.

"Considerable damage to material was inflicted and some people were seriously wounded," said a communique of the Netherlands Indies fighting forces.

The communique issued from Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell's headquarters on the island of Java said two more Jap transports were known to have been sunk and a third probably was sunk when United States aircraft yesterday twice attacked the enemy convoy in the Straits of Macassar.

"In another part of the area Dutch aircraft shot down a hostile machine," this communique said.

Same Battle Scene

These attacks occurred in the same battle-churned stretch of water where American and Dutch planes and warships previously had caught and repeatedly hammered a huge Jap convoy, putting possibly as many as 46 or 48 ships out of action.

In addition to the raid on Surabaya airports at Malang and Madioen and the village of Magetan, all in East Java, were bombed.

The enemy also bombed and machine-gunned Rembang, another small East Java town, killing two persons, seriously wounding three and slightly injuring eight.

Enemy aircraft continued their activities over other parts of the outer possessions and 12 civilians were killed and 15 wounded in an attack on a Kampong or native quarters on one of the small islands.

The communique added that guerilla warfare continues in the Minahassa, Celebes, and that "local successes are being reported in which many of the enemy are being killed.

About 75 per cent of the paper produced in the United States is burned after being used once, according to the Department of Commerce.

clerks and other public employes have been urged to offer their services as registrars.

All unregistered men who were born between Feb. 17, 1897, and Dec. 31, 1921, must register some time between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m., with the exception of men who come under the exemptions authorized by congress.

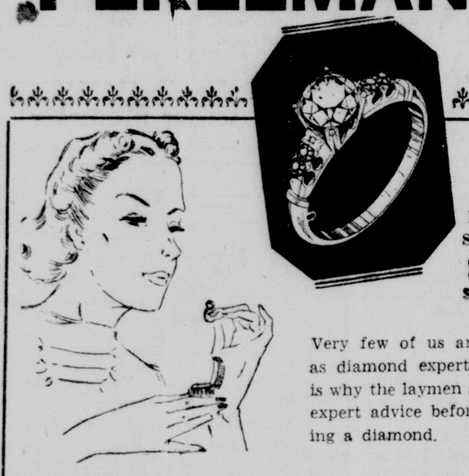

Any person who must register away from home should be careful to specify his home address, officials said. Although all eligibles are being asked to sign up in their home districts to avoid confusion, they will be permitted to enroll anywhere and their cards will be cleared eventually to the local boards nearest their home addresses.

Yet people in trouble would be better served by a note saying: "Here is a check for the money I didn't spend for flowers."

HERSHEYS HEAR TALK ON FRENCH CAMEROUN

A large number of the Hershey Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church and several guests enjoyed an interesting and instructive program at the regular meeting at the church on Monday evening, when they heard a talk by Miss Eva Miller, a missionary from the French Cameroun in Africa, who is at present a worker among the young people of the First Presbyterian church.

Miss Miller, assisted by Clay Aubel, showed moving pictures illustrating her topic, "The Making of a Missionary."

Those pictures took the audience from New York to Paris, where the missionaries spent six months in intensive study of the French language, and then along the west coast of Africa to the Cameroun with its beautiful tropical scenery. The pictures portrayed the life and characteristics of the native people and some of the difficulties and pleasures encountered in the life of a missionary.

Miss Pearl Dufford was in charge of the worship program, using as her topic, "Goodness", which is the sixth "Fruit of the Spirit."

During the business meeting, in charge of the president, Mrs. H. E. Golder, it was decided by the auxiliary to have the annual dinner Monday evening, February 16, instead of on February 18, as previously announced.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. George A. Carpenter, chairman; Mrs. William J. Connery, Mrs. J. A. McNeill, Mrs. Verne Dufford, Mrs. O. A. Hartman, Mrs. C. F. McDowell, Mrs. Sam McGoun and Mrs. F. L. Orth.

INTENSIVE EDUCATION

THREE-YEAR courses to accomplish what is normally the work of four years have been generally adopted by colleges and universities in compliance with the government's insistence, but many of them have some misgivings as they stop to count the cost.

As Dr. George Barton Cutten, shortly to retire as president of Colgate University, points out, the extension of the academic year, with three semesters instead of two, entails a heavy expense. This has to be borne by the privately endowed institutions out of incomes adjusted to a teaching year of 36 or 37 weeks. Under this strain he fears that some of the more poorly endowed institutions may have to fold up.

Under the strain of the three-year program academic war casualties have to be expected, even if cost-cutting results in nothing more serious than eliminating for the duration a great many courses from a wide list of electives.

Doctor Cutten, for one, does not advocate any general plan of Federal aid to the colleges in this connection, though he is in favor of liberal student aid. He is undoubtedly correct in feeling that fairly well-endowed institutions would look on Federal grants as calculated, even though not intended, to stifle their independence. Despite the tremendous growth of state-supported education, particularly in the West and South, it is the privately endowed institutions that are primarily the educational innovators and liberals.

Little thought as yet has been publicly directed to post-war college reorganization. It may well be that this new experience will convince many educators that long vacation periods amounting to 15 or 16 weeks in a calendar year, constitute waste of opportunity, however enjoyable to student and faculty alike.

When a boy reaches college age he is as fit to go to school for most of the year as another is to work in a store or factory. A postwar plan to make three-year collegiate education general might have teacher opposition and opposition from well-to-do parents. By those of limited means it might be welcomed as easing a protracted burden.

ON SAVING SEED

Food will help win the war, but the United States Department of Agriculture prefers that its production be left to experts. The department remembers the crop of amateur farmers that sprang up in the last war.

A large amount of spade work—and vegetable seed—went into stray lots, backyards and what once were grassy lawns. In many cases nothing more fruitful was cultivated than a summer tan.

This time the department would slow down the back-to-the-soil movement on city lots. If urban farm help is available, there will be ample outlet for it on the nation's farms. But to turn an army of amateur farmers loose with spade and hoe would be to court waste that might result in serious seed shortage. Therefore the department, with no desire to be a killjoy, but with every expectation of getting co-operation and conservation, advises all city planters to go easy.

MAYOR LA GUARDIA'S WISE DECISION

Two weeks ago Mayor La Guardia announced that he would shortly surrender one or the other of his two principal posts as director of the Office of Civilian Defense and head of the New York City government. He now becomes more specific by stating that the office he will give up is that of defense director.

The mayor has been a long time coming to this wise decision, reached with obvious reluctance. It caused him great effort, apparently, to make up his mind that it is impossible for any one man to do justice to the two jobs of OCD head and mayor of the nation's largest city. Everyone else seemed to have made up his mind to that effect long ago when it became evident that Mr. La Guardia was spreading his talents too thin to do civilian defense any good. With his usual modesty, the mayor observes that the work of organizing the OCD is about completed and that the operations from now on will be chiefly administrative. This self-pat on the back may ease his exit, but actually the work of organizing civilian defense in the United States is far from finished, but just begun.

Lack of co-ordination is visible at every hand. Some communities and areas have progressed rapidly in civilian defense matters, while others continue to lag badly. Some local and state agencies are working well, but the general effect is still that of confusion.

Now that Mr. La Guardia is prepared to yield his directorship, this confused state of affairs may be cleared up and replaced by efficiency and co-ordination at the controls. Perhaps Dean Landis, saddled with the title of "executive" while La Guardia was still the headman making the decisions, will be named director; perhaps someone with more experience militarily will get the job.

In any event OCD should be placed in the hands of a full-time administrator capable of giving it the attention that this post deserves. Civilian defense has not been helped by La Guardia's indecisive fluttering back and forth between his various positions. Once he is out, it should make up for lost time.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Bible Thought For Today

This truth, a little wisdom and unselfishness would prevent most wars: Wisdom is better than weapons of war, but one sinner destroyeth much good.—Eccles, 9:18.

Hints On Etiquette

Now that war is here, it would be a good thing when "the girls" get together, to discuss the various branches of the service and something of these things, it will be appreciated by the men of your family and friends who are in the armed forces, and save you some embarrassment besides.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PRECOCIOUS BABY EASIER TO SPOIL

A PRECOCIOUS baby is early spoiled and more easily, perhaps, than an older child who is precocious.

"Dear Dr. Myers:—My boy who is 2½ started pointing at 'W' and asked 'What is that?' Then he asked about many different letters and in several weeks knew all the letters. He'll start at the beginning of a line of capital letters and read all of them perfectly and loves to do it. He is now interested in numbers and knows most of them. Everybody says he is very unusual.

"In stores, when I buy articles, he will read the letters on the wrapper, which attracts considerable attention. Will this spoil him?"

Every now and then I get a letter describing some precocious baby or young child.

Of course, the desire to learn is such precious urge that a parent is usually eager to encourage it when it arises. However, when a tot under five shows as much interest in learning formal matter as this child does he immediately attracts undue attention from adults, including his parents, who over-estimate him. He soon learns he is different and inevitably grows conceited.

He cuts himself off from other children his age who don't share his interests and skills and is, on this account, less able to play with such children. Moreover, he tends to turn away from normal creative play or from doing and making things with his hands. Besides, he will incline to read, spell and do number work before his eyes have been well coordinafed, causing increased nervous strain in him.

The parent who is guided by wisdom and discretion rather than by pride will discourage interests in formal learning before it goes far by turning the child's attention to more nearly normal interests. This may require considerable self-discipline in a parents.

The child may be read to, though, from sources which gradually increase in difficulty and should be encouraged in creative play and, at games of skill with other children.

It should be noted that even a child of average ability might be stimulated to do what this tot has done. Indeed, he might be taught as early as at three or four to read and to memorize mechanically all sorts of facts for grown-ups. Yet such training would not be good for him.

Little children should be allowed to grow up and be happy with other children their age, and not be exploited for the amusement and selfish satisfaction of adults.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Why is the average youth under 22 or 23 a more dangerous driver than his parents?

A. Because he often lacks their sense of responsibility and has more urge to speed and take a chance.

The World and the Mud Puddles

STRENGTHEN CONGRESSIONAL SPINES

Recently the Wall Street Journal printed a series of articles on the problem of inflation by outstanding authorities, including Edwin Walter Kemmerer, Marriner Eccles, Benjamin M. Anderson, Jr., Sumner H. Schlichter and Neil Carothers.

In the last article, B. H. McCormack of the Journal staff summarized the opinions. Briefly, the conclusions were pessimistically toned. The experts interview, representing divergent schools of finance theory, were in general agreement (1) that it would be possible to control inflation, at least to the extent that it would not amount to more than an appreciable price rise, (2) that, nevertheless, a more difficult type of inflation is ahead of us, and (3) that it will come because of political, not economic reasons. Leading thinkers in the science of economics have pretty well crystallized their thoughts on inflation preventives. There is a remarkabe unanimity of opinion on this point even among economists representing conficting social theories. But even sound theory

by ERICH BRANDEIS

Don't be afraid to laugh just because we are at war.

"Nazis have no sense of humor," says Emil Ludwig, the great biographer, who certainly knows the Nazis, having been kicked out by them. "That is why the Axis will crack first under the strain of the continuous war of nerves!"

Let us fight like hell and laugh like hell.

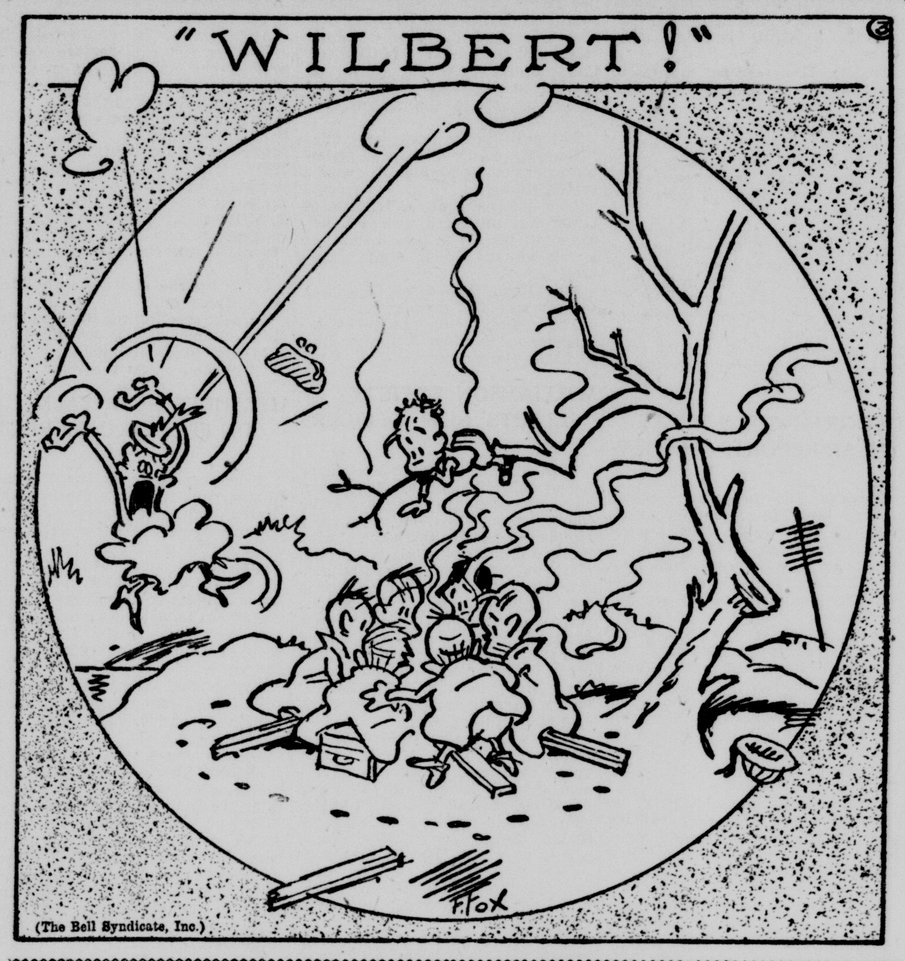

If they want to crack our nerves, let's crack a smile. Let's cheer not only for our soldiers and sailors, but our clowns and comics as well. Above all, let's keep our great American talent of being able to laugh at ourselves.

We have made mistakes. Let's laugh at our dumbness—but don't let's repeat it. We have been asleep. That's where they had the laugh on us for a day. But wait and see who's going to have the last laugh. Who says you've got to hate your enemies? No, sirs, you look much too funny for hating, with your monocles and medals, your bow-legs and toothy grins, your black shirts and brown shirts and yellow hearts.

This is going to be a grand show. We'll keep right on laughing, and fighting and winning. You may not see the funny side of it, Messrs. Hitler, Hirohito and Mussolini, but this we promise you faithfully:

With our guns and bombs and bayonets—WE'LL TICKLE YOU TO DEATH!

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:19. Sun rises tomorrow 7:07.

Then there is the kind of man who says what he thinks if it is unpleasant.

About the only thing some birds make is suggestions—and often they are not so good.

Rube—Do you believe in metempsycholsis?

Arb—Let's have that again, please?

Rube—It's like this. According to that theory my soul, after I get through with it, may inhabit the boby of a jackass.

Arb—Well, I don't know any place where it would feel more at home.

Public schools will have to do without a lot of paper within the next year. But there still will be report cards.

A lawyer is the only fellow who ever gets paid for minding other people's business.

Bill was dining at a friend's home not long ago and noticed that the cook was a very good looking woman.

"How come you have such an attractive cook?" he asked his host.

"We are away a great deal of the time," the host explained. "And we found that this way we get excellent police protection."

The transport was shoving off for the Orient. Two little flappers were waving goodbyes from the dock.

"I think it's a shame," said one, "to send all those nice Marines to China. What will they do there?"

"What'll they do!" replied the other. "Ain't you ever been out with a Marine?"

A man was talking with a neighbor how to conserve on gas, electricity, water, etc.

"You might move in with your wife's folks for the duration of the emergency," said the neighbor.

"Too late," sighed the sad one: "they thought of it first and are already established in my house."

In well regulated homes where there is a baby there can be no argument over priorities.

So far we have not heard of any man announcing his candidacy for governor of Pennsylvania. Many want the job and will take it if they can get it.

Men aren't as generous as women. They never uplift your spirit by raving about your new hat.

Percy had called on his sweetie. "Are you sure you love me?" he was asked.

"Love you!" echoed Percy. "Why, darling, while I was bidding you goodbye on the porch last night, your dog bit a piece out of the calf of my leg, and I never noticed it until I got home."

PICTURE AHEAD

"So you don't want the green dress?" asked the clerk. "No, ma'am," replied the large woman of dark complexion. "Ah suttinly don't. Honey, Ad'd look too much like a ton o' coal in a lettuce patch."

On clothes she spent her legal tender because this truth she's found—a dress can make a girl look slender and a hundred men look 'round.

Joe Louis entering the army will cut down the tax on seats, in places some thousands of dollars a year at boxing exhibitions.

In mild exasperation an office man asked his new stenographer, "Don't you know the king's English?" She replied, "I believe he is of German descent."

It used to be that when women asked for a divorce it was on account of cruel and barbarous treatment. Now most of them charge indignities. Both are tough stuff.

Looks as if something terrible has happened to the age-old rule that honesty is the best policy.

Shorter skirts for evening dresses are now suggested. No doubt that would be popular with some who stumble in them while dancing.

It was the first time she had been to dinner with them, and they smiled indulgently as she refused a scotch and soda.

"I've never touched it in my life," she explained.

"Why not try?" urged her host. "See if you like the taste."

She blushed and shyly consented, and he poured her out a mixture, which she delicately raised to her lips. "Why," she cried, "you've given me rye!"

SPEECHMAKING

If ambitious to go in for club activities requiring speeches or the reading of papers do, for your listeners' sake, take a course in public speaking. Teachers of this art easily rid their pupils of such common defects as nasal tone, a too-high pitch, running of syllables together, blunting of those at the ends of words. Untrained speakers may obtain a fair idea of how they would impress audiences by listening in on radio programs whereon amateurs discuss questions with or are queried by professionals.

A girl or boy selected to represent his high school or college on a quiz program, too often sounds like a burlesque show hillbilly when his voice is heard in contrast with that of an announcer with a cultivated voice.

Readers' Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: Recently I purchased a faille suit. The sales girl from whom I bought it (an employe of a first-class shop) as well as the buyer pronounced the name of the material as if it were spelled "file." I think it should be pronounced "fail." Am I wrong?—Bert.

Answer: I, too, have noticed the mispronounciation "file." Even a fashion commentator in the movies made this same mistake. "Fail" is the Anglicized pronunciattion of this French word. The difficult French pronunciation is as if spelled fah-yeh.

Dear Miss Markel: Who makes the first call, the older resident or the new one? Must such calls be returned?—R. N.

Answer: The older resident should call on the new resident and whether the latter likes the former or not, this call must be returned. This custom prevails in the country and suburban communities, but not usually in the city.

Dear Miss Markel: Please give me some forms for introducing. For instance, I know that "Mr. Smith meet Miss Jones" is incorrect, but I am always in a quandary as to what to say.—Q. V.

Answer: Miss Jones, may I present Mr. Smith?—Mr. Smith, have you met Miss Jones? (never ask Miss Jones if she has met Mr. Smith)—Miss Jones, do you know Mr. Smith?—Miss Jones, this is Mr. Smith—or, merely, Miss Jones (pause) Mr. Smith. These are all acceptable forms.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed 3-cent stamped envelope.

Tomorrow—Recreation Room.

The follow who is the life of the party now has to talk louder than the radio.

Then comes along the bird to brag about his wife's economical way. "She's so saving that she used only 30 candles on her cake at her 40th birthday," he enthuses.

Household Hint. A lady in Michigan has what she considers the first foolproof device to keep babies from crying. Most babies, she writes, cry when they are left alone and can't sleep. To rectify this situation in her home, she has built a mirror over the top of her baby's crib. When the child looks up he sees another baby and doesn't feel lonesome. In fact, our correspondent writes, the baby always laughs. A baby looks awful funny to some people.

Discuss Free Trade After War's End
Premature Discussion Being Waged Now
Protectionists Claim It's Premature

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—It's pretty soon to begin discussing the "pros" and "cons" of world free trade after the war. Nevertheless, it's being done.

The equitable international exchange of commodities isn't the only thing it'll be necessary to guarantee to prevent future conflicts, the free traders agree, but they insist that it's one of the most important items.

Such talk is "visionary", according to the protectionists.

Now, I would not call the Right Reverend Monsignor John A. Ryan, social action director of our National Catholic Welfare Conference, a visionary. He's spiritual in the religious sense, but, as an economist, I'd class him among the most practical authorities available, and on an international scale, too.

Well, Dr. Ryan's prescription for permanent peace includes free trade as one of its most essential ingredients.

Illustratively, he makes no excuses for Japan's performances; he describes 'em as crimes. Yet he adds that the Japs mightn't have perpetrated 'em "if they could have obtained adequate markets for the goods that their economy is fitted to produce."

The protectionists concede that the world would be safer if its substandard countries could get themselves out of the "mire of chronically meager living conditions."

Prophets Interested

Former Research Director Antonin Basch of the Czecho-Slovak National bank goes into this subject exhaustively in a recently published book, "The New Economic Warfare", which is attracting lots of attention among American prophets concerning times to come.

The protectionists don't question the desirability of helping the "substandard" folk onto a better basis. They do make the point, though, that, after all, they're "sub-standard", and doubtless will be more so than ever after this war. If trade barriers are knocked down, reason the high tariff advocates, while the sub-standard bunch perhaps will benefit, they'll do so by sub-standardizing US, by competing with us, on their sub-standard terms.

In short, it's the traditional argument for the continued maintenance of a lofty, impregnable Yankee tariff wall, clear around, with our industry, agriculture and everything barricaded, unassailably, inside.

"What these logicians forget," as ex-Congressman George Huddleston of Alabama, one of our best free traders, once remarked to me, "is that an outfit that builds a wall to keep all others out, likewise walls itself in."

I' myself, had thought of that before. I was brought up in Iowa. The state was settled largely by discharged Union soldiers, who consequently were dyed-in-the-wool

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON—Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York advocates planning for a post-war world: "When victory comes to our army and navy, there must be no 'economic Pearl Harbor' for our factories and our farms."

NEW YORK—Archbishop Francis J. Spellman calls for greater civilian contribution to the war: "If we in our own sphere of life shall give more sweat it will mean less blood to those of our brethren who are fighting our battles and less tears for those mothers and fathers who have unselfishly given their boys to the service of our beloved land."

SOUTH BEND—Francis E. McMahon, midwest chairman of the American Irish Defense Association, appeals to Prime Minister De Valera: "Your lot is with us in this fight for freedom."

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Francis Biddle warns against persecution of aliens: "I want to point out that the persecution of aliens—economic or social—can be a two-edged sword. Such persecution can easily drive people, now loyal to us, into fith column activities."

No more car for kids to use!
No more sodas, no more pop!
Pa says spending's got to stop!
We are in a war and he
Offers all for victory.

Everything for victory goes!
No more ribbons for the hair!
No more pretty underwear!
Pop says all our fur must be

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright, 1942)
By The Baltimore Sun

A Conference Called For

Washington, Feb. 3.

THERE is a disposition in certain Washington quarters to dismiss from consideration at this time all post-war problems on the ground that the primary thing is to win the war. Of course they are right about that, but, they are not right in the assumption that thought given now to conditions clearly recognized as inevitable following the war, interferes with winning it or diminishes concentration on that objective.

ON the contrary not to plan now for what is sure to happen then is to subject the country to unnecessary and really appalling dangers. To be caught unprepared to deal with the tremendous job of transferring from a war economy to a peace economy is inexcusable and indefensiole. It is to repeat in a big and far more perilous way the lack of foresight responsible for the rubber shortage, which almost overnight paralyzed the entire automobile industry of the United States.

FAILURE to prepare for the adjustment after the war will involve a very much greater dislocation than that. Failure to prepare for this adjustment is to risk a social revolution that easly might plunge the country into chaos and from which an America, utterly different from the America we have known, would emerge. Warnings of this possibility have been sounded from time to time by various persons but they seem to have made little impression. Up to now, no concrete step toward preparing has been taken. Yet no reflective man will dispute the vital necessity of preparation.

THIS IS why the just published report of the so-called National Resources Planning Board, of which Mr. Frederick A. Delano, aged uncle of the President, is chairman, is more than usual interest. This document was written by Dr. Alvin H. Hansen, special adviser to the Federal Reserve Board and a great friend of Vice-President Wallace. It

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Douglas MacArthur is our only double-geared general.

He can fight a war or turn out golden prose with either hand.

He dashed off a birthday note to the president that a Homer would sit up all night to compose. Then he went out and got himself a couple of more Japs.

We have raised a lot of clay pigeons to the status of tin gods but our money looks good on MacArthur.

He will be a hero until the cows come home and furthermore he will be carrying the cream.

In praising MacArthur let us not forget the George Spelvins, Joe Doaks and John Does who are pitching overtime for the old man.

He's good but he has company.

Our sole reward for them so far is assurance that they won't be prosecuted if they are late in filing their income tax returns.

That is a noble gesture of the rankest sort.

It would be nice if we could get a message through—while the heat still is on—saying "hey fellers—we love you".

The way to have heroes is to let them know they're extra special. Now—not after the war.

Thought for the day: MacArthur forever!

Poorly fitting shoes cause much misery.

Pressure and friction result in corns and callosities.

If pressure is over a small area a corn develops.

Pressure over a wide area results in a callosity.

Such pressure must prevail over a long period of time.

Inflammation of the lower layers of the skin is very painful.

Often a mild infection adds to the pain and danger.

Corns are of two sorts—soft and hard.

Soft corns are usually between the toes where skin is moist.

Hard corns appear on outer and upper parts of little toes.

Treatment of corns consists in correcting type of shoe worn.

Many persons prefer style in shoe comfort of feet.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Senator Truman Defends Wheeler

Charges Made Sen. Wheeler Delayed Wire Tapping Legislation

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Defending Sen. Wheeler (D) Mont., against charges that he delayed wire tapping legislation, Sen. Truman (D) Mo., today told the Senate that federal agents tapped wires in Hawaii before the Pearl Harbor attack.

"Anyone acquainted with the record must conclude in fact that the intelligence and investigative services of the federal government resorted to wire tapping in Hawaii a long time before the attack on Pearl Harbor," said Truman.

"How could Sen. Wheeler have evidence more clearly that the wire tapping bill was to be considered on its merits?" asked Truman.

Truman said the subcommittee met and heard department of justice representatives, but took no action. There was, he said, strong opposition.

"We heard, for example, that important witnesses before the House committee had testified that wire tapping might endanger national defense, might hurt workers' morale and thus interfere with maximum production," said Truman.

Many labor organizations protested against the bill, he declared. Truman said the subcommittee was informed that the head of one of the most important investigative agencies of the government said wire tapping was inefficient and undesirable.

Deferred Status Of Some Reserve Officers Lifted

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The war department today notified army reserve officers employed in the war production board that their deferred status has been cancelled "because of the present state of war," and that they are now considered available for active duty at any time.

Since September, 1940, the war department has granted deferments to reserve officers employed in various key governmental agencies and departments.

NESHANNOCK POST WOMEN PLAN PARTY

Ladies of Neshannock Post No. 315, V. F. W., will entertain their friends at a card party in the post rooms, 126½ East Washington street, this evening at 8:30 o'clock. These parties are designed to stimulate the sewing and knitting work which the women are doing in the general war effort.

War Work Represents The First Jobs Many British Housewives Have Ever Had

By KATHLEEN HARRIMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Feb. 3.—"I never worked before the war," Mrs. Britain confessed. My husband was a bank clerk in the city. My job was at home with the children."

I met Mrs. Britain in a garage back of Victoria Station. She's a conductoress now on one of these big, red London buses.

Mrs. Britain isn't an exception to the rule either. A great many women over here are taking jobs for the first time in their lives—jobs that can release men for war work women can't do.

Ride on London Transport buses a few times and you'll discover that most of the grey uniformed conductoresses are married. A conductress lives at home. She operates from a bus depot near that home.

This week Mrs. Britain is on the "early shift." That means she leaves her house at 6:30 a. m. and works until 2 p. m. Next week she takes her turn on the "late shift." That means she won't get home until midnight.

Husband Also Is Active

Mrs. Britain's husband is at the Ministry of Supply. He too works on a 48 hour a week schedule.

What about her house work, her shopping, her cooking?

"Since I joined up a year ago, my husband and I work on a fifty-fifty basis. I'm doing just as good a war job as he, so now it's up to him to help me with the housekeeping. That's fair isn't it?"

Go into any store in London today and you will find that about half the customers are men. The married woman takes over a man's job, so it's up to the man in the family to help her out.

Household shopping takes time in London today. It can't be done by telephone. Little does the American housewife realize how spoiled she's become!

Mr. and Mrs. Britain must stand in queues and still more queues before they can find a bit of unrationed meat or a can of cooking milk.

What's happened to the Britain's children?

Children Evacuated

"We evacuated them to my mother's village when the blitz started," Mrs. Britain told me. "Now we don't think it's fair to them to bring them back to London. You see, my boy hasn't reached school age yet. My moher can look after him; I'd have to send him to a day nursery. It's hard to be separated—but we've all got a job to get done. I'm lucky. I still have my husband."

Mrs. Britain loves her work.

"I never realized before how friendly people are on buses. I'm learning a lot about England," she told me.

Mrs. Britain is getting out and meeting people and besides she finds that she is making good money—about twenty dollars a week.

"What with all the rationing it's hard to find things to spend my money on," she confessed. "I ran out of clothing coupons long ago. Stupid of me too—now I wish I'd saved them. I'll be needing our uniform slacks when the weather gets cold."

Slacks take five coupons — five out of the 66 yearly ration. Perhaps though, Mrs. Britain will be able to wangle those five from her husband!

With Men In U. S. Service

Mrs. Joseph Frankovich, 222 Atlantic avenue, has received word from her brother, Staff Sergeant John Verbon, who is in Hawaii, stating that he is well and safe.

Harold Leslie, an instructor in the United States Army Air Corps technical school at Chanute Field, Ill., left this morning to resume his duties, after spending the past week visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Leslie of Moore avenue, and friends.

Lt. R. B. Jameson, who has been spending a five-day leave with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Jameson, of 211 East Lincoln avenue, returned Monday to his duties at Camp Lee, Va.

A letter, which she received this morning, is the first word that Mrs. Mary Wiech of 70 Bluff street, has had from her son Pvt. Walter Wiech since the outbreak of war. The letter was postmarked Honolulu and said that Pvt. Wiech is safe and well.

All Civilians Urged To Aid Defense Work

Registration Will Be Taken At Neshannock Post Headquarters For Unregistered

ALL WHO ARE ABLE URGED TO ENROLL

All persons in this community desiring to register for civilian defense, and who have not already enrolled, may now do so at the post home of Neshannock Post No. 315, Veterans of Foreign Wars, who have donated their rooms for this purpose. They are located at 126½ East Washington street, second floor.

There is a place in the county-wide defense plan for everyone over 16 years of age and in sound health both men and women, Chairman W. Fulton Jacwson announces. Special qualifications are not necessary. In the broad field of civilian defense, those with or without particular training will find work they can do.

Registration does not necessarily mean an immediate call to service, it is stated. Some may be chosen for instruction as soon as the registrations are catalogued and classified. Others will be held in reserve for future need. It is very probable that no raids will be made on New Castle. On the other hand, the remote chance is still too large to be ignored, for New Castle is in a vital production area, and a military objective of more than ordinary importance.

It is better, defense authorities point out, to be ready for an emergency that doesn't develop, than to be unready if it does. Naturally, it is stated, the more there are on the civilian defense lists, the easier it will be to select those best qualified for the different jobs essential to a propertly organized county defense network. The task is one that everyone can share.

There will be no Federal marshal or FBI agent looking for one if he does not register in this defense effort, as is the case with the men to fail to register for the draft. But the moral compulsion exists just the same. The war effort concerns every man, woman and child and the concern of the civilian defense corps is the immediate protection of home and family.

Those who are physically capable of serving are wanted in this effort and arge urged by local defense authorities to sign up in some branch of service.

Appointment Of Melvyn Douglas Is Protested

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Fsb. 3.—Bitterly protesting the appointment of Melvyn Douglas as publicity chief for the Office of Civilian Defense, Rep. Leland M. Ford (R) Cal., today branded the movie star a "pink".

"He is a former communist and his name is not Douglas, it is Melvyn Hasselberg," Ford declared in a speech on the floor of the house.

"Isn't he the same man who was refused a commission in the California national guard because he is a pink?" Ford asked. "He is well known to have all the pink affiliations. And in the last place I would like to know why we have to nave someone who has changed his name in these high offices."

Rep. Voorhis (D) Cal., rose to the defense of the actor, declaring that "Melvyn Douglas is not a communist and I don't know anyone who can do a better job than he can."

It is sensible to regard public opinion, but nobody is free who tries to live by the opinions of the neighbors.

Maybe Hitler is our chief enemy, but we can't get him till we destroy his tools—and that means Japs.

Hope To Close War Relief Fund Drive This Week

Quota Will Be Attained, Chairman Duff Announces This Morning

ASKS WORKERS TO END CANVASS

This week is expected to see the War Relief Fund campaign for $40,000, which has been conducted in Lawrence county by the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, brought to a successful close, and workers are urged today by Chairman Walter W. Duff to clean up their districts so that a final report can be made this week. There is little doubt but that the goal will be reached, Mr. Duff states, as the goal is now at hand.

Fine reports still continue to come in, the total amount subscribed by workers at Shenango tin mill of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel company today being reported at $2,800. The Associated Box company employes are 100 per cent in the drive.

A fine spirit of cooperation was displayed at Bessemer. At the Bessemer Limestone company, a contest was waged between the different departments, with the foremen as chairmen, and a flag was presented to the department which led each day. The flag passed back and forth between different departments like a relay racer's baton, and resulted in the fine total of $511 being subscribed.

The Croatian and Slovenian lodges of Bessemer gave a benefit dance, raising $70, all of which was contributed to the fund. Miss Esther Landman was chairman of Bessemer's splendid campaign.

Harry Culliford, chairman of first aid for the Lawrence county chapter, gave a splendid talk on First Aid at the Bessemer high school Friday, which was deeply appreciated.

Happy thought! Being normal means being like the average, so it isn't normal to be perfect.

Republicans; hence rampant protectionists. They plunged mainly into agriculture, and, producing bigger crops than we could consume at home, desperately needed foreign outlets for their stuff. Yet, for two or three generations, until quite lately, they toiled overtime to create an export market for it by means of an import tax. Of course, the import levy walled 'em in.

Of course, if some other country's mean to us on the tariff proposition, it may be that it behooves us to similarly mean to the other folk, reciprocally.

Conciliation

But, if they incline to be conciliatory us-ward, doesn't it pay us to be commercially sociable with THEM?

That's where State Secretary Cordell Hull's reciprocity policy fits in.

I think personally that Cordell, in the last analysis, is an unqualified free trader—that he considers a tariff barrier injurious to the country that erects it, whatever the other fellow's system may be.

However, that isn't reciprocity.

Reciprocity means that we'll be nice to such of the neighbors as are prepared to be nice to us.

It's easy enough to arrange in some cases.

For instance, we make machinery that Brazil isn't equipped to produce, and Brazil has coffee, which we can't grow here. Trading machinery for coffee's to our mutual interest.

Argentina's output, though, consists of corn ,wheat and cattle, which are just what we've got a surplus of. The Argentinos don't want ours and we don't want theirs. That's why we and the Argentinos are a bit cool toward one another. We're competitors.

Anyway, post-war free trade talk already is going on.

Nearly 600 Pay Parking Meter Fines In Month

Six hundred and thirty-six persons paid fines for parking meter violations, traffic irregularities, speeding and excessive horn blowing here during January which set a new high in police history. Of the 636, five hundred and ninety-four persons paid a fine for violating parking meter regulations. This is several hundred in excess of previous arrests for any one month.

According to a report to be made by Police Chief Willis McMullen to Mayor Charles B. Mayne, 594 violated parking meters, 39 violated traffic regulations, two were arrested for speeding and one paid a fine for sounding his horn when it reportedly was unnecessary.

Sabinet Officers Urge Additional Aid For China

Go Before House Committee At Secret Session To Speed Action

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. — Five cabinet officers were to go before the House foreign affairs committee during a secret session today to urge prompt approval of a new administration bill authorizing President Roosevelt to extend additional aid to China.

Administration leaders indicated that speedy approval of an additional grant of $500,000,000 to the Chinese republic is regarded as of extreme importance in prosecuting the war.

Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of Navy Knox, Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau and Secretary of Commerce Jones, who also is federal loan administrator were to testify at the secret session in favor of the new loan.

While China has been given both lend-lease and financial aid in the past, the new proposal is said to be designed to stabilize Chinese currency, provide for expansion of war industries and bolster the nation against fresh Japanese onslaughts.

With Congress rushing approval of war-aid bills, administration leaders indicated that swift passage of the measure be sought.

Over 15,000 Cars Have Stamps Here

New Federal Use Stamps Must Now Be Carried On All Autos

Most New Castle car owners today had heeded Uncle Sam's order to paste a Federal auto use tax stamp on their windshields, Postmaster William R. Hanna believes.

When last midnight's deadline arrived over 15,000 of the $2,09 stickers had been sold, and because the New Castle Motor club estimates 15,000 cars are owned in the city alone Hanna feels most of the cars had stamps.

The office had a supply of 20,000 to meet district demands, and most of that supply will probably be sold More autoists today came to the post office to buy.

If your car doesn't carry a stamp on the windshield or dashboard today you'd better prepare to have a city, county or state police officer step up to talk it over. Out of courtesy—that's what they call it—they will report all violations direct to the Internal Revenue Bureau and the "revenooers" will investigate.

Remember this: The fine 's $25 if you've bought a stamp and failed to post it, and $50 if you haven't obtained one. Besides, there could be a jail sentence.

The World and the Mud Puddles

is no better in the long run than its practical application, and it will remain for the congressional and administrative branches of our government to put most of this theory into application during the emergency period.

If disastrous inflation develops, it will be widely stated that "no way has been found to control prices during war periods." As a matter of fact, the truth will be that no way has been found to bolster the political courage of congressmen and administrators against the demands of self-seeking minorities. Throughout the recommendations of these experts interviewed by the Journal are specifications that have been urged upon Congress and the national administration, all of which to date, have been deftly avoided. If the public will keep this in mind in its letters to its representatives at Washington, some headway may be made against what the experts foresee as a very trying economic situation during the next few years.

Priceless Art Treasures Have Been Removed From Royal Palace In Hawaii

BY RICHARD HALLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HONOLULU, T. H.—Workmen have completed the removal of priceless art treasures from the Iolani palace there, only palace of royalty in all United States territory, and transported them to a secret place safe from any possible attack or sporadic bombing.

Not since the days of the revolution in 1893, when the Hawaiian monarchy was overthrown and Queen Lilluokalani deposed and held prisoner in Iolani palace, has that historic and beautiful edifice been the scene of such activity as today. At that time there was musket firing at the palace from within the spacious grounds, but on December 7, the fateful Sunday of Japan's treacherous attack, a bomb fell in the grounds just outside the balcony of Governor Joseph B. Poindexter's office.

As soon as martial law was declared the military governor established offices the palace, which is also the seat of the civil government. Lt. Col. Thomas H. Green, executive officer for the military governor, has his office in what was one Queen Lilluokalani's bedroom, and operates martial law across the broad desk used long ago by a royal cabinet minister.

Office In Throne Room

In the famous throne room on the first floor where royalty once held court is the Office of Civilian Defense. Across the hall in the royal dining room is another Civilian Defense Office. Military guards stand at the gates of the grounds and the doors of the building. Military cars rush up to discharge or pick up busy army officers. The interior of the building is a bee-hive of activity.

That activity has to do with the management and government of the civilian population in war. Laws have to be changed and quickly, food, gasoline, transportation and many other things must be controlled; workmen must be gathered up and rushed to places where they are needed.

Although Iolani palace has been the seat of the civil government since annexation of Hawaii in 1898, it is also a precious museum of historic treasures, most of which could not be replaced should an aerial bomb strike the building. The corner stone was laid in 1879 and the royal family moved in during 1883. Ever since then it has accumulated treasures of art and history.

Rare paintings of kings and queens, chieftains and their mates, adorn the walls. Massive chandeliers of purest crystal hang from the ceilings. Bronzes stand on the newel posts of the dignified stairs.

Throne Room Restored

Several years ago Secretary of the Territory Charles M. Hite, an authority on Hawaiian history, obtained an appropriation and had the throne room restored to its original state. Old documents had to be combed to find where furnishings were made nearly 70 years ago. Tapestries, draperies, rare mirrors and even the throne chairs were either repaired or copied exactly.

When it was completed the Hawaiians held a secret ceremony to bless the room. Ceremonial equipment was taken from the royal mausoleum for this, and many of the old Hawaiians were frightened that some ill omen would bring misfortune. They took every precaution not to incur the wrath of the Hawaiian gods, but even then the young and pretty wife of the decorator who directed the restoration died suddenly a short time after her husband's commission was completed.

As soon as war broke out Secretary Hite decided he would take no chances of having the priceless and irreplaceable contents of the building destroyed or damaged by enemy bombs. The crystal chandeliers, the paintings and the mirrors have come down. So have the bronzes. Today the walls and niches are bare, and the treasures have been moved to a secret hiding place far back in the hills where bombs are not likely to find and ruin them.

When victory comes the Hawaiians will have a rare ceremony placing all those treasures back where they belong.

Reports 10,000 Jews Are With British Forces

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY—Fighting in the British ranks against the Axis hordes today are 10,000 Jews, according to Rabbi Barnett Brickner, of Cleveland.

Rabbi Brickner, an executive board member of the American and World Zionist organizations, made that statement in a lecture recently in Kansas City.

"Although it is little known, there are 1,500 Palestine Jews in the Royal Air Force," the rabbi asserted. "Jews are fighting in the Near East, and they fought with honor in Crete and Libya."

Palestine, he revealed, has been a source of supply for the British forces. Cantonments have been built, and technicians have devised roads for the expeditionary troops.

Two million casualties have occurred among the Jews of the world in the war so far, he said, adding "and there probably will be two million more before the war is finished."

Concluding, he declared:

"The Jewish people have suffered more than any other race as the world population of Jews is only 16 millions."

is a vague, voluminous affair, which makes a great many recommendations without suggesting any practical way of translating them into realities. The fact most worth noting about the report is that it is the fourth distinct pronouncement on the subject. The other three were a little less in length and slightly more concrete. But, in the main, all four are in complete accord on the basic facts. And, up to now, they are identical in that not one has made the least progress.

FIRST, there was Assistant Secretary of State Adolph A. Berle. A pioneer in the field, Mr. Berle published a book nearly a year ago pointing out the character of the post-war problems and clearly indicating the action that should be taken. In a trenchant magazine article a few months ago he again warned of the dangers and pointed out the opportunities. Next, there was Mr. Charles E. Wilson, president of the General Electric Company. Concurring in the Berle views, Mr. Wilson strongly expressed the conviction that failure of industry now to prepare and plan for the return to a peace basis was to commit an economic crime, criminal in character.

THIRD, there was Mr. Owen D. Young, retired industrial and head of the American Youth Commission. In a report made public last week, Mr. Young accentuated, emphasized and elaborated the points made by the Messrs Berle and Wilson. Among other things, he called for advanced planning to assure jobs for the millions of young men who will be without jobs when the war is over—which is exactly what the Messrs. Berle and Wilson have called for. Further, Mr. Young asserts that in addition to the youths from 16 to 21 who will be jobless when peace comes, there will be several millions from 21 to 36, released from the armed services and with strong claims on the country, seeking something to do. If these claims are not met, he says, these young men will not be silent. Every social unrest movement will appeal to them. Continued and widespread unemployment may lead to social revolt. Thus speaks Mr. Young, as a result of much study and thought on the subject. He is neither an alarmist nor a theorist. He is one of the ablest, most distinguished and more disinterested citizens of the country and his words should carry weight.

AND, finally, along comes "Uncle Fred" Delano, Dr. Hansen and the National Resources Planning Board. Here we have four important individuals, each one viewing the facts from a different angle and functioning in a different field, yet in complete accord upon three things: First, that the danger exists.. second, that advance planning is necessary to avert it; third, that there is little time to be lost. In addition, all four of these men are equipped to offer concrete and constructive suggestions. Obviously, it is a matter in which there must be cooperation between the Government and industry. It isn't a job which either can do by itself. It is a job that must be done together.

IS IT not time that this cooperative planning should begin? Is it not time that conferences, instead of being talked about, should be held? When four men such as Mr. Berle, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Young and Dr. Hansen are in accord about the presence of danger and the need for action, it is reasonable to assume that they can get action. It is quite clear that unless they do more than write books, magazine articles and reports there will be no action because no one in authority is considering taking the initial steps. Just as a start, a conference between the Messrs. Berle, Wilson Young and Hansen of expressing their views separately, they should get together and act collectively. Somebody ought to make a move.

Sub-Zero Weather Returns To Section

Marks Of Five Below Zero Are Reported At Some Points In City

With an official temperature of three below zero noted this morning, and marks of five degrees below and lower reported in other sections of the city and county, King Winter returned with a vengeance, following the week-end snow.

Motorists were caught napping as they let the anti-freeze get low in their cars, and many steamers were noted last night.

Weather forecasts for today were for continued cold weather, but the Cleveland district promised rising temperatures tonight, so it is believed the cold snap will not be of long duration.

BLOUGH IS NAMED GENERAL SOLICITOR FOR U. S. STEEL CO.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—The appointment of Roger M. Blough as general solicitor in charge of all legal matters for the United States Steel Corporation of Delaware, at Pittsburgh, succeeding the late William Beye, was announced today by Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the company.

Blough, a native of Riverside, near Johnstown, is a graduate of Yale Law School, having taken his college preparatory work at Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove.

Switzerland is encountering difficulties in maintaining its all-essential foreign trade, the Department of Commerce says.

Currency Wearing Out Quicker Than Formerly

By JACKSON ELLIOTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The American people are spending money so fast these days that the currency is wearing out two months sooner than it used to.

This, and other bits of unusual intelligence, were disclosed today when the house appropriations committee made public its hearings on the treasury-post office supply bill.

Edward F. Bartelt, commissioner in the treasury's bureau of accounts, told the committee that the increased wear on folding money was due to the rapid change of ownership in these days of business expansion.

Prior to 1942 a bill had an estimated life of nine months, he said Now the treasury expects badly worn bills to be sent in from the banks for redemption in about seven months.

Biggest Headache

Meanwhile the hearings also disclosed that one of the department's biggest headaches is the poppy seed, cultivated for the adornment of breakfast rolls . The trouble with the innocent-seeming poppy seed, the department finds, is that it also is a source of opium.

H. J. Anslinger, commissioner in the department's bureau of narcotics, who told the committee about this, is not himself an addict of poppy seed-trimmed rolls.

"I don't see that it adds anything to the taste," he declared flatly, adding that he would like to see legislation enacted to control its cultivation.

Mints Run 24 Hours Daily

Because of the great demands for coinage, the three mints are operating 24 hours a day, seven days a week in an attempt to produce the 1,6000,000,000 coins used in a year. During five months of 1942 the minting increased approximately 23 per cent.

The government is "in", it hopes, $185,728,000.

The figure represents the value of 42,892,000 pieces of the old large-sized paper currency which has not been turned in for redemption. According to William S. Broughton, commissioner of the public debt, the bills are all over the world, some kept as souvenirs, some still in vaults and safes, and others destroyed by fire.

During the hearings it was brought out that the treasury department has a budget line of $128,950 for the care of animals and the storage of vehicles. Questioning of department officials disclosed that the treasury has no animals, but that it just never got around to changing the title of the expense item.

Enemy Aliens Must Register

Certificates Of Identification Must Be Procured By Them

All aliens of enemy nationality must procure certificates of identification, the Department of Justice announced today. These certificates must be applied for at the nearest first or second class post office between February 9 and February 28, 1942. The announcement of the Department of Justice follows:

(1) Aliens of German, Italian or Japanese nationalities who are 14 years and older and who have not fully acquired United States citizenship must apply at post offices for certificates of identification.

(2) Applications must be filed at the nearest first or second class or county seat post office in the period February 9 through February 28, 1942.

(3) Printed instructions for filing applications are now available at all post offices.

(4) When applying for certificates of identification, aliens must have their alien registration receipt card and three unmounted photographs of themselves, size 2 inches by 2 inches, printed on thin paper, showing applicants front view without a hat.

(5) Postmasters will be glad to lend assistance to aliens of enemy nationalities who need advice or information.

JAPANESE MAKE AERIAL ATTACKS UPON SINGAPORE

two fields, Tengah and Seletar, are within range of the enemy's artillery.")

The communique noted, however, that the Japanese had failed to inititae any ground activity against the powerful British defenses of this strategic Far Eastern bastion of the united nations.

Bombers of the Far East command were declared to have raided the Japanese-held airdrome at Kluang on the Malayan mainland and also to have attacked enemy motor transports in low-altitude raids.

Singapore Raided

This morning 36 Japanese planes attacked the city of Singapore on the southern portion of the island, striking in two formations.

The new war communique recounting recent developments in the siege, stated:

"Enemy air activity over Singapore has been considerable during the past 24 hours.

"High, level and dive-bombing attacks have been carried out, causing some fires, but military casualties have been slight.

"There has been no enemy ground activity against our defenses.

"Bombers of the far east command raided the Kluang airdrome last night. Enemy motor transports were attacked from a low altitude."

Meanwhile, the lull in activity in the Johore straits themselves is expected to continue until the Japs have completed their dispositions. British artillery meanwhile continues to plaster enemy military objectives at Johore Bahru, where considerable transports are being gathered.

Three Ships Sunk

Three Japanese ships sunk or scattered by British guns yesterday some distance off the Johore mainland carried troops.

A small force of Australian troops cut off on the mainland during the general withdrawal have now reached Singapore by devious means. Two of the men cut through the Japanese lines and swam the straits.

The new assault on the city marked further intensification of Japanese aerial forays against the island fortress, regarded as the opening stage of the Nipponese effort to reduce this mighty United Nations base.

Anti-aircraft and other defenses went into action against the raiders while British guns on the northern short of the island sent over barrages to smash enemy transports and concentrations and break up siege positions on the Malayan mainland.

Bombs dropped by Jap raiders in previous attacks had caused a number of fires but military damage and casualties were slight.

British imperial troops, rested after withdrawing from the Malayan peninsula, took up defensive positions along with the regular Singapore garrison, buttressed by reinforcements that have been arriving in Singapore in recent days.

Plan Mass Assaults

On the northern side of Singapore's "moat"—Johore strait—long columns of Japanese pushed down to the southern tip of the peninsula in preparation for mass assaults to come. Guns on the island constantly were in action to break up these preparations.

(A Domei (Japanese) dispatch from Tokyo this morning said an artillery duel had raged throughout Monday across the strait of Johore. It quoted an army spokesman as saying:

("Japanese troops have been stationed since Saturday at the gates of Singapore. A general offensive shortly may be reckoned with."

(A London broadcast heard by NBC quoted Batavia advices as saying Japanese naval squadrons are preparing for an assult on Singapore to support the Japanese land forces beleaguering the fortress island from the Malayan mainland.)

British scouting pilots were declared to have sighted "considerable enemy movements southward on the mainland," and these were regarded as indication of the extent of the assault the Japs are preparing to hurl against the foremost United Nations bastion in the far east.

Official circles expressed confidence that Singapore will be able to withstand a protracted siege. Some observers held the opinion the island can hold out more or less indefinitely—that is, until the United Nations can deliver sufficient supplies and reinforcements to take the initiative from the Japanese.

Auto Dealers Asked About Available Tools

Sub-Contracts For Armament Manufacturing Work May Be Provided

New Castle automobile dealers today received a questionnaire from Joseph W. Frazer, president of Willys-Overland Motors and member of the OPM automobile advisory committee, asking them for specific information on the number of machine tools available in their shops for armament work.

The survey is being conducted among all of the nation's 40,000 dealers and distributors and is designed to furnish the Toledo concern with information which should prove valuable in letting sub-contracts on its rapidly expanding armament business. Mr. Frazer said that his company is now completely converted to war production and plans to "farm out" part of its present and future government work to dealers equipped with lathes, drill presses, grinders and other machine tools.

"There are hundreds of small items essential to the war effort which can be produced in automobile service shops and we hope to find out just what the capacity is and what tools are available," he said. "In many cases dealers can pool their facilities and thereby attain sufficient capacity to take on sub-contracts."

The survey also asked for information on sales and distribution facilities which may be available for the distribution of civilian defense items such as gas masks, stirrup pumps, air raid shelters and others.

News Briefs From City Hall

Seven hundred and forty-two persons were arrested by city police in January. Of the total, 636 received tags for some motor law violation. Twelve of the 742 were sentenced to jail following police court hearing. Fifty-six persons were discharged. The remainder were either freed on a cash bond and failed to appear for hearing or were given into the custody of aldermen or other authorities.

Fourth federal auto stamp was reported stolen yesterday. Joseph Bordonaro reported the stamp was removed from his car in South Mill street.

Motor vehicle owned by A. R. Nocera, 335 East Long avenue, reportedly stolen last night was found early today in Scioto street vicinity.

Police reported today the recovery of the car of Donald Hubbard, Croton avenue, which was found in Long avenue. It was stolen recently.

Frank Lamancusa, 836 South Mill street, has received a city permit to remodel a store front at that address, at an estimated cost of $1,000.

INJURED IN FIGHT

Sam Joseph of Long avenue is in a semi-conscious condition in the New Castle hospital and Chauncey Lutton and James Assid, both of 806 Porter street, were held on a charge of suspicion by city authorities today following an asserted fight at 420 East Long avenue. The alleged fight was due to alleged domestic trouble, police learned. The arrests were made by Policemen Sines and Wallace and Fireman Herman Steinbrink.

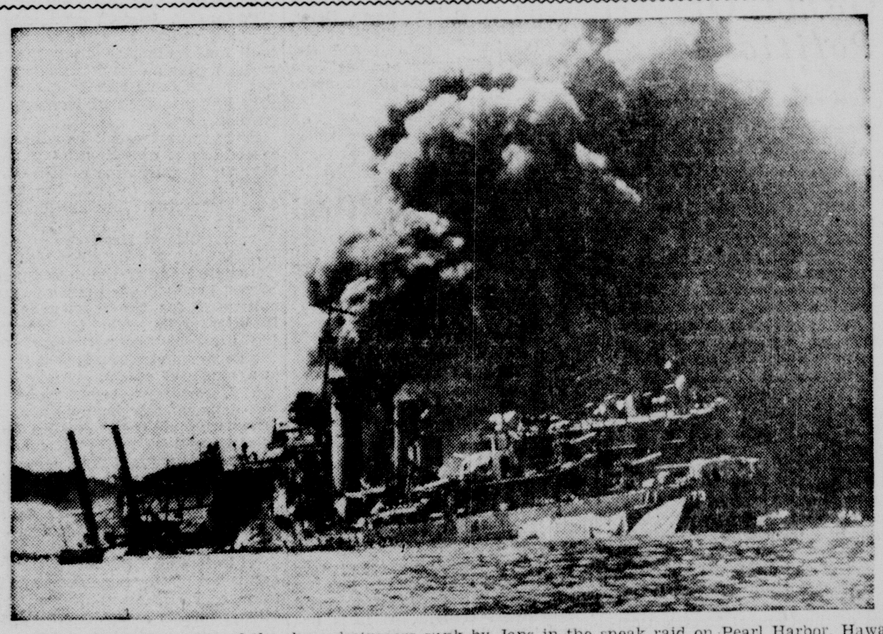

Victims Of The Japanese Rattlesnake

Dr. Crile's father, world-famed, spoke before a dinner meeting of the county group some 30 years ago.

NAZIS MAKING SUPREME EFFORT AGAINST SOVIETS

Baltic states are returning to action on the Soviet front two months in advance of the time originally set for their return.

Rush In Reserves

(These crack Nazi units, the Express said, have had two months rest. If they had been kept out of action for another two months they would have been ready to participate in Adolf Hitler's planned spring offensive.)

In far northern waters, it was announced, Soviet warships sank another three German transports, totalling 8,000 tons, in the Barents Sea.

(A British radio broadcast heard by CBS said 48 German transports now have been sunk by the Red fleet in the Arctic Sea. The announcer said the vessels were sent to the bottom while taking reinforcements food and war materials to the German armies in the north.)

But on the southern extremity of the front, on the shore of the Black Sea, the Russians admitted their first major setback since the recapture of Rostov last Nov. 29. This was the evacuation of Theodosia "some days ago" by Red army troops.

(The German high command announced Nazi forces had recaptured Theodosia on Jan. 19.)

Counter-Balanced

Loss of Theodosia was counterbalanced by new gains scored in the southwest Crimea by the Red army garrison counter-attacking from the Sevastopol naval base area and by fresh Soviet advances on the eastern Ukraine-Donetb Basin front.

(A computation of territory recovered by the Soviets since reoccupation of Rostov showed they have recaptured more than 60,000 square miles, or about 14 per cent of the Russian territory seized by the Germans. This estimtae was based on official communiques issued by both sides since the start of the Russo-German conflict.)

Reoccupation of Theodosia by the Germans indicated the Nazis have thrown powerful formations into a counter-drive aimed at the Kerch Peninsula, which forms the eastern arm of the Crimea and faces the northwest coast of the oil-rich caucasus across the narrow Strait of Kerch.

The midnight communique added that the Red army "continued to wage offensive battles in most sectors of the front" but admitted German counter-attacks "in a number of sectors. It was declared, however, that these German counter-thrusts were repulsed.

"The enemy sustained big losses in equipment and particularly in manpower, the war bulletin said.

On the Donetz front the Russians were reported menacing German positions at Kharkov, Dnieproppetrovsk and on the sea of Azov coast between Mariupol and Taganrog.

In that region, the Russian radio said the Russians captured Gavrilovka, 64 miles south of Kharkov.

Charge Attempts To Wreck Train

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—William Coughenour, 60, of Ursina, Somerset county, today was held in $15,000 bond for allegedly attempting to wreck a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train on three different occasions during last December.

Coughenour, a one time railroad guard, was given a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Roger W. Knox at Pittsburgh. Government witnesses charged that the defendant three times tried to wreck or derail a Chicago-bound B. & O. train.

The first attempt was made December 22 when railroad spikes were placed on the rails. The second attempt, December 27, highway posts were thrown across the tracks and on December 30, a 100-pound stone, witnesses said, was placed in front of the on-rushing engine.

Knox placed Coughenour under $5000 bond on each of the three counts.

Rotary To Talk Over Brave China's Cause

Discussion of club activities occupied members of the New Castle Rotary club at their weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton yesterday. President Clare B. Book presided.

"Camps Need Books" Says Army Officer

Lieutenant Loring Gordon, Recently Commissioned, Comments On Need Of Books In Camps

Lt. Loring Gordon, recently home on leave from Fort Belvoir, Va., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gordon of Highland avenue, when asked to comment on the need for books in army camps, in connection with the current Victory Book Campaign, said: "I think the boys will read if they get books that interest them. You have your evenings free when you're in training."

Gordon said that there is plenty of room in the U. S. O. buildings for books, and that while each company has a company fund, this sum goes toward furnishing the company recreation room with some chairs and a radio.

He said that when he left Camp Bowie, Texas, the library there was "just beginning to be very good".

"Histories of the last war, and of course modern books," were suggested by Lt. Gordon as types that he thought would interest a number of the service men.

Expensive Ship Launchings Over

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—The days of $1,000 ship launching has passed.

The navy has proposed a $25 limit and congress is putting it into the new navy supply bill.

The money is to provide transportation for the launching parties and flowers.

Senate appropriations committee hearings today showed that Acting Secretary of the Navy Forrestal, on Dec. 9, 1941, established a limit of launchings running from $1,000 to battleships down to $100. This, however, was modified a month later.

Words Of Wisdom

Your little child is your only true democrat.—Mrs. Stowe.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

HARRISBURG, Feb. 3.—Governor James is so provoked over the quibbling and bickering that delayed settlement of the dispute over congressional reapportionment that he may dispense with a custom of long-standing when he decides to issue his call for a special session of the legislature. He felt so strongly about it, he stated, that he may not hold a pre-session conference with legislative leaders to discuss the points to be included in the call. This will prove a disappointment to at least one legislative leader, for Speaker of the House Elmer Kilroy had already stated eh presumed the governor would confer with him and other legislative leaders before issuing his call.

Unlike a regular session, when any legislation may be enacted, the legislators must consider during a special session only the subjects included in the governor's call convening them. They are not required to enact legislation covering points in the call nor, on the other hand, can they deviate from them. Suggestions have been made from time to time that the constitution be amended to permit the legislature to consider all subjects at a special session. It was pointed out in this respect that in recent years the legislature has been meeting almost every year. Nothing has come of it, however.

Governor James recently parried an attempt by a newspaperman to put the chief executive on record regarding the rumored availability of Attorney General Claude T. Reno for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. "Recently there was a story," said his questioner, "that the friends of Mr. Reno looked with favor upon his candidacy for governor. You're one of his friends, governor. What do you think?" The governor retotrted: "If you want my opinion on whether Claude Reno is my friend, the answer is 'yes', he most certainly is."

There is little chance that the new state civil service commission will be set up soon. "There has really been no call for the commission to do anything now," said the governor when asked whether he had any intention of naming its members soon. The act creating a three-member commission which would combine 12,500 merit system employes of three departments under one body was approved by the governor on August 5, 1941. It provided that the three commissioners be named within 30 days, but the governor has contended that this deadline represented a suggestion on the legislature's part and was not obligatory. In the absence of the new board the three existing civil service agencies continue to handle merit problems for the employes of the liquor control board, department of public assistance and the unemployment compensation bureau.

Everything is now in readiness for the special session of the legislature. A new platform has been erected at the rear of the house hall for visitors, carpets have been cleaned and the two chambers brightened up generally.

Gustafsons Were Through Attack At Pearl Harbor

Proceeded On To India In Same Boat On Which They Sailed From San Francisco

An article written by Rev. Raymond H. Smith, published in the January tenth issue of The Alliance Weekly, reveals the fact that Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Gustafson, of this city, missionaries in the India field, who are suported by the First Presbyterian church of this city, passed through the Pearl Harbor attack, their boat actually being under attack.

They were up on board and saw the whole thing, but thought it was just maneuvers, as did the captain of their boat.

In describing the event, Rev. Smith wrote, "There was a continuous roar of guns. Here and there great splashes of water showed where bombs had been dropped into the sea. We lined the rails and watched with interest, for to us it was still nothing but maneuvers, even when bombs fell near our ship as it came through the narrow harbor entrance. Neither pilot nor captain knew it was real warfare, or we would have been huddled below in corridors and missing the greatest show I ever expect to see. (Certainly I don't want to see another like it.)

"As we went down the gangplank to the dock, someone said, 'Here they are again, and, looking up, we saw enemy planes just above us, with American planes in pursuit. Once again as we walked along the streets to the Salvation Army headquarters, planes appeared overhead, and we took shelter in a store until they passed.

"Surely the Lord has protected us thus far. Altogether, there were two heavy raids and three lighter ones on Sunday. You may have more news of what happened than we have here."

They continued their voyage to India on this same boat on which they had embarked from San Francisco, and are now evidently in India, messages having been received two weeks ago, stating they had landed in Java.

Seek Zoning In New Plant Area

Mercer County Residents Present Petition To County Commissioners

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Feb. 3.—Residents of townships in northern Mercer County, bordering on Crawford County, near the site of the new T. N. T. plant, have petitioned Mercer County commissioners for a zoning and planning ordinance to protect themselves and their property from "nuisances and menaces to public health, safety and welfare" which are expected to result after an influx of workers at the plant.

President James L. Bailey said government engineers have informed him that more than 7,000 workers are expected to locate in the plant area during the construction period, and that at least 3,000 or 4,000 persons will be employed there after the plant starts operation.

"Certain restrictions will have to be made and the county government will be responsible for enforcement of many of them," Bailey said.

The state and federal government probably will provide police protection in the area, but hundreds of buildings probably will be erected outside the plant area to house workers.

The commissioners said they have been informed that about 50 miles of macadam highway, 50 miles of railroad and 75 miles of steel fence will be constructed within the area, in addition to plant buildings. Many of the workers who will construct the plant are expected to locate in northern Mercer County.

Farm War Board Shows Concern

Scarcity Of Farm Labor In County Beginning To Create Serious Situation

Lawrence county's Farm War board, composed of leaders in various agricultural agencies, is much concerned about the shortage of farm labor, and is appealing to youths to stay on the farm, where they can help their country win the war.

They will be just as well off financially, one of the group stated, following a conference held late last week, when the situation was reviewe. Farm wages now run between $65 and $100 month, depending on the kind of work done, and the experience of the laborer. With board thrown in, this is much better than could be made away from home with higher wages in defense plants, where one has to pay high board, and other expenses, members of the board state from their own personal experiences.

The county farm war board is composed of D. L. Fulkman of the Lawrence County Agricultural Conservation Association, H. L. McCurley of the Farm Credit Association, Charles L. Brenneman of the Farm Security Association, Elmer C. Pifer of the Soil Sonservation Service, H. R. McCulloch, county farm agent, and E. C. Wiggins, vocational agriculture supervisor.

In summing up the situation, the board states that the volume of food grown for our armed forces and allies depends on the supply of adequate labor.

In assisting to help win the war, boys of the Lawrence County Future Farmers Association will soon make a collection of scrap iron on county farms, which is now badly needed in industry, and will devote the money they secure through this effort to furthering the work in their chapters.

Almost every farm has some scrap iron which can be donated to the cause, the war board states, and farmers are urged to help the youths in this effort.

We don't blame Congressmen for being dumb but for having the gall to accept responsibilities too big for their calibre.

CITY READY FOR NEW ALIEN CHECK

Post Office Will Register Germans, Japs And Italians Living Here

Every New Castle district alien of German, Japanese or Italian descent must carry a special government identification card in the near future, and the New Castle post office, co-operating with the Department of Justice, is completing plans for the issuance of the cards, February 9 to 28.

Postm ster William R. Hanna said all the cards will carry photographs of the bearers—photos which will match with duplicates which will be placed in the Justice Department's files in Pittsburgh and Washington.

Two postal clerks will conduct the Identification Program job in Room 201 of the Federal building commencing next Monday and continuing until February 28.

Hanna said that close to 3,400 aliens of the district—aliens of all nationalities—were recorded in the first registration months ago, but he could not estimate how many were Germans, Japanese or Italians. Only aliens of those nationalities must register this time.

CBC Total Mounts As Students Aid

Public School Pupils Canvassing For Books—Nearly 2,000 Total At Last Report

With over 100 books turned in for the Victory Book Campaign during the past few days at collection points in the county, and 150 collected in the public schools of the city during the first days of the schools' particiation in this campaign to help raise 5300 books in Lawrence county for libraries in army camps, marine centers, ships and navy training centers, the total of books contributed for the VBC is nearing 2000.

Anxious to help get "books to give the soldiers" are the pupils of the public schools, as those of you who know who have opened the door during the past few days to groups of grade school pupils or junior high school pupils, who are canvassing with the plea "Have you any books to give the 'sojers'?" One George Washington student, who had just turned in 11 books and was off for more, explained that "If we all bring some, we get credit for being 100 per cent."

And the local head of the Victory Book Campaign, Miss Alice Sterling, knows first hand what an "all-out" effort the schools are making. Since the first evening after the schools pledged their support, she was solicited by a group of Highland school students and a delegation from George Washington.

Students Can Join U. S. Naval Reserve

Enlistees May Not Be Called Until Completion Of Current School Year

Students enlisting in Class V-1, United States Naval Reserve, may not be called to active duty until completion of the current scholastic year, officers in charge of the local U. S. Navy recruiting office were informed today.

Students in schools or colleges, who have not reached their twentieth birthday, may enlist in the aforementioned class. Upon their own request, they may be placed on inactive duty until the completion of the current scholastic year unless the military situation becomes worse, it was announced.

Schools and colleges will be encouraged to give extra physical training and studies to young men who enlist in this category during the next four months. Special physical training is recommended by the Bureau of Navigation.

In announcing the new opportunities for students, it has been stated that Naval recruiting will continue on a voluntary basis.

Psychological Tests Taken At Center Here

The students taking courses in the New Castle Center of the Pennsylvania State College's Engineering, Science and Management Defense training program have completed a group of psychological tests, according to L. C. Black, the administrative head.

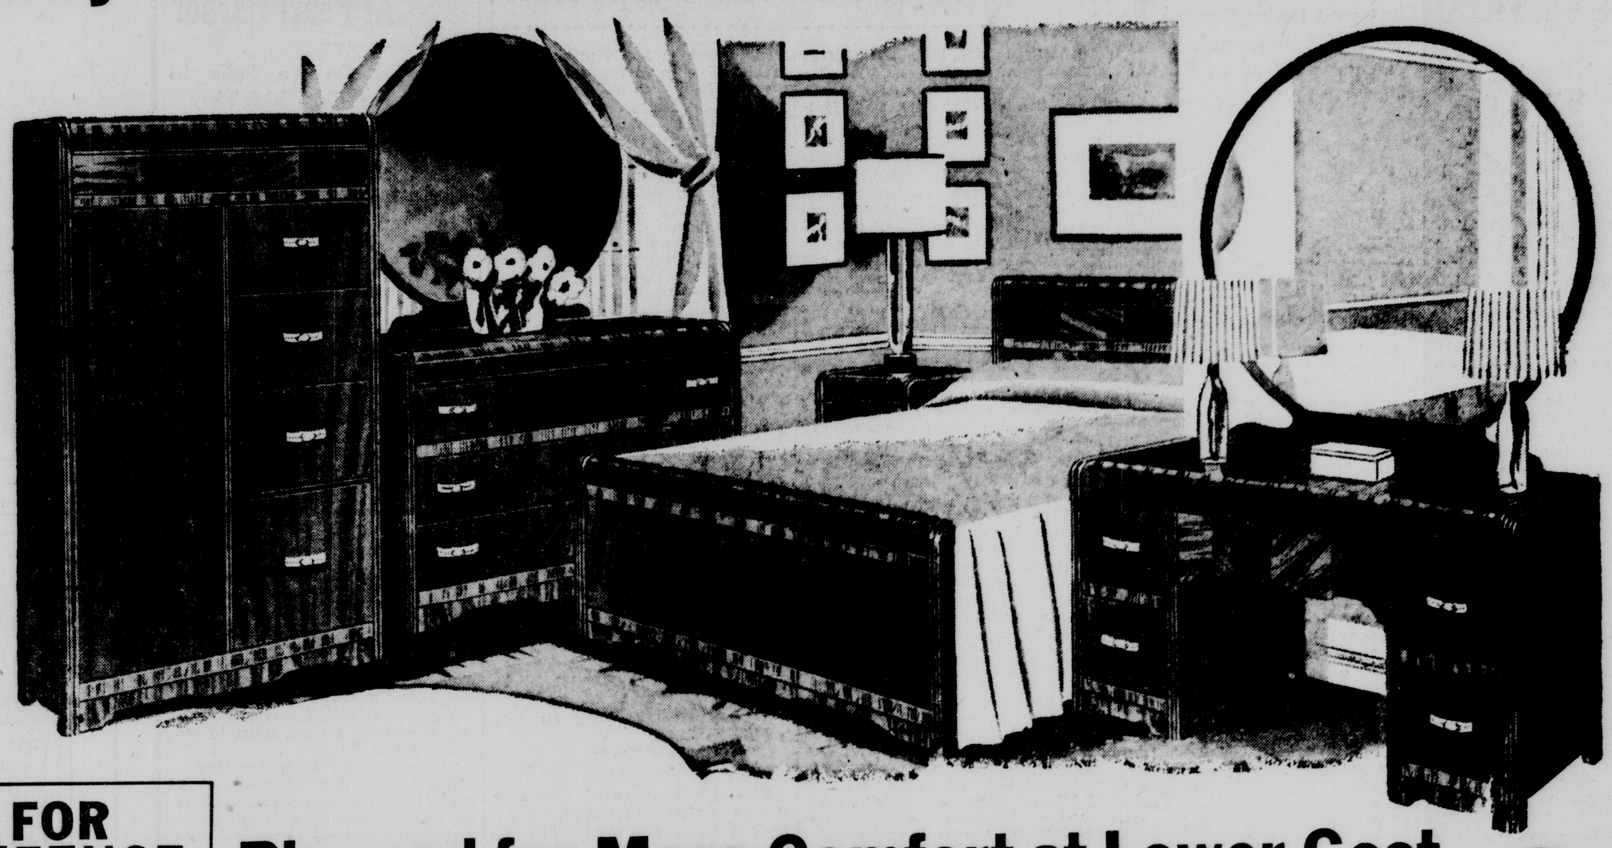

Tests were given for vocational interests, general intelligence, personality, aptitude. Intended to give each student an indication of his special abilities, they will be used also for research at Penn State, and as an aid in placement.

Tests, which are similar to those given during the college's previous defense training program, will be interpreted individually and returned to the students before the end of the course.

Milk Mixture For Stomach Ulcers

A recent medical discovery now being used by doctors and hospitals everywhere has proven unusually successful in the treatment of stomach ulcers caused from excess acid. It is a harmless preparation yet so effective that in many cases the pains of stomach ulcers disappear almost immediately after it is used. Also recommended for gas pains, indigestion and heartburn due to hyperacidity. Sufferers may now try this at home by obtaining a bottle of Lurin from their druggist. Lurin contains this new discovery in its purest form. Easy to take. Just mix two teaspoonfuls in a half glass of milk. Costs but little. Try a bottle, it must satisfy or money refunded. Lurin for sale by Eckerd's, Pay-Less and drug stores everywhere.

BRIDGE PLANS COMPLETE

Plans and specifications for the improvement and enlargement of the Jefferson street bridge are completed and on Monday Arthur G. Leake of Harrisburg, a bridge architect and engineer, called upon the county commissioners for the purpose of discussing the proposed improvement.

As the matter stands now the plans and specifications are ready for advertisement, if the commissioners decide to ahead with the work. The plans call for a forty-five foot cartway, two sidewalks, the elimination of the crown upon the bridge, and arranging it so that the turn into the street parallelling the Neshannock creek would be sufficiently wide for truck traffic to make the turn without creating a hazard. The commissioners are studying the plans and specifications and will decide what course of action to pursue.

CASES FOR TRIAL

Cases for trial, filed with the Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts, John A. Edgar, include the following.

Rose Ellen Zimmerman of Ellwood City asks a divorce from Iray Claire Zimmerman whose address is unknown. They were married March 30, 1925, in New Castle. Desertion is charged.

Charles Strohecker and Elizabeth Strohecker of Ellwood City file a suit aganist the National Equities Corporation for $850 and interest from February 19, 1940. It is alleged that prior to February 19, 1940, the defendants had purchased properties and accounts which they were liquidating. Michael A. Barletta was named the agent for the defendants, although it is charged the firm never registered as a foreign company nor did it designate against whom processes may have been issued. In January 1940 the agent, Mr. Barletta, agreed to sell the plaintiffs the property of John and Flora Majors for $850, which price was paid. In the meantime the Majors declared themselves bankrupt before a sheriff's deed could be excuted. Since then the plaintiffs claim the defendants have refused to pay back the money involved.

Opal Cornelius of Wilmington township asks a divorce from Jesse Cornelius of Volant. They were married March 17, 1915, in Cumberland, Md. Cruel and barbarous treatment are charged.

The Lawrence Savings and Trust Company files a suit to recover $3,000 alleged to be due on a mortgage given by the New Castle Agricultural Association.

Bootlegging Is Shown Increasing

International News Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—Bootlegging is on the increase, the House Appropriation Committee revealed today in making public testimony on the treasurer's supply bill.

Treasury officials told the committee that there was an increase of 16 per cent in bootlegging in the nation last year. The same sources estimated that 18,000,000 gallons of ellicit liquor was consumed in the United States in 1941. Increase in federal liquor taxes was given as the cause.

Now they warn us of a food shortage. That's the food we paid farmers not to raise so scarcity would increase prices.

British Launch Counter-Offensive In Libya Battle

Rommel Units Menace Derna

Desert Battle Continues With Clashes Developing At Several Points

R. A. F. SUPPORTS GROUND FORCES

By W. P. SAPHIRE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CAIRO, Feb. 3—British mobile forces in the Libyan desert are continuing their "offensive activities" and "engaging the enemy wherever he is found," the British middle east command announced today.

The new British offensive on the Libyan front centered in the area northeast of Msus.

It developed after the British launched a series of counter-attacks to stem the Axis drive which was aimed at the strategic Libyan supply port of Derna.

The new communique admitted, however, that in the Jebel Akdar region the Fourth Indian Division is still withdrawing "under continuous enemy pressure which apparently has been reinforced."

R. A. F. planes were declared to be giving close and effective support to these Indian troops and to the British mobile columns.

"In the desert area northeast of Msus," said the communique, "British mobile columns continued their offensive activities on the whole front, engaging the enemy wherever he was found.

"In the Jebel Akdar area the Fourth Indian Division is continuing its withdrawal under continuous enemy pressure, which apparently has been reinforced.

"The air forces, particularly fighters, closely and effectively supported the Indians and the British mobile columns throughout the day."

While it was conceded that Gen. Erwin Rommel's strong Axis units were menacing the key Libyan seaport of Derna and making advances in the Jebel Akhdar sector east of Barce, British military headquarters maintained the Axis advance had been "checked" in several sectors.

Royal Air Force units also struck over a wide area at enemy supply and transport columns, and scored hits starting large fires at Tripoli in western Libya, according to the British middle east command.

One British counter-attack was being carried out in the Slonta area, east of the crossroads city of Barce. There the Eleventh Indian Infantry, which has been fighting intermittent counter-actions since Saturday, attacked and checked the enemy advance, a communique said.

Annual Academy Of Award Dinner Is Being Planned

No Pretentious Party Or Dance This Year, Only Simplicity Will Prevail

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 3—The Academy Award dinner, traditionally Hollywood's biggest social event of the year, was rescheduled today after having been cancelled once because of the war.

However, the revived affair has been stripped of the pomp and ceremony by which it has been distinguished in the past.

Walter Wanger, president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, in announcing that the dinner would be held at the Biltmore Hotel Feb. 26, with Wendell Willkie as guest of honor and chief speaker, said that the dinner would cost only $10 plus $1 tax instead of the customary $25.

In addition, there will be no "white ties and tails," just business suits and uniforms. Nor will there by any dancing.

The dinner is held annually for the presentation of "Oscars" or statuettes in recognition of outstanding work in pictures, balloting on the nominations, now in progress, will close Feb. 4.

Religion In Life Week Being Held At Slippery Rock

Religion in Life Week is being conducted at Slippery Rock State Teachers college from February 1 through February 7, the program being sponsored by the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. and including the entire college. Walter Keibler is president of the Y. M. C. A. with Sara Jane Frederick president of the Y. W. C. A.

The week's program opened with a vesper service on Sunday evening in the college chapel conducted by the students and well attended by students, faculty and townspeople. Thomas Thompson, a freshman from this city, participated. The vesper service next Sunday evening will be in charge of the American Legion.

Meetings have been arranged for the remainder of this week as follows: Tuesday, 4 to 4:30 p. m., chapel; 10 to 10:20 p. m., boys' dormitory; Wednesday, 10 a. m., assembly; Thursday, 8 to 9:30 p. m., faculty homes; Friday, 6:45 to 7:30 p. m., Hut; Saturday, 6:45 to 7:30, Hut.

Russia Will Have To Use Sturdy Icebreakers To Keep North Supply Route Open

By LEONARD SCHLEIDER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Soviet Russia will be forced to use sturdy, razor-prowed ice-breakers to keep her northern supply route open this winter, if the flow of United States lend-lease supplies is to reach its destination.

For, according to the National Geographic society, Archangel, the Russian terminus of war materials shipped from Boston, is a remote Arctic port frozen from late October until June.

In a bulletin dealing with Russia's newly-prominent White Sea Harbor, the society stated that Archangel is almost 5,000 miles from Boston, the loading end of the anti-Axis bridge of ships.

"Archangel sprawls along the banks and islands of the estuary of the North Dvina river, a chilly stream which empites into the White Sea near the Arctic Circle," the bulletin noted, adding that Archangel is 180 miles east of Murmansk, the other Soviet "window" to the western hemisphere.

Although nearer to the Atlantic sealanes, Murmansk's value as a supply terminal is reported to have been considerably slashed by the German invaders.

Archangel is 700 miles from Moscow, 500 miles less than Murmansk's distance to the Russian capital. "In addition," the society reported, "the more direct Arcnangel railroad runs through terrain that has fewer obstructions and marshes than the Murmansk route, an advantage especially important at the time of spring thaws."

The Geographic society bulletin said that Arcnangel's harbor can accommodate hundreds of river and ocean-going vessels. "Through the port passes some four-fifths of the entire White Sea trade,' it went on. "Archangel normally operates ship building yards and entensive fisheries."

"In the turbulent days of the Russian Civil war and Allied intervention, the city became the northern base for British, United States, French and other foreign troops. But the opening up of the northern country as a whole brought new industrial and commercial life to the city," the report stated. It estimated that Archangel's population is now 281,000 persons.

Founded By Englishman

The National Geographic society brought to light the historical paradox that Archangel was founded not by a Russian, as would be expected, but by an Englishman. An English trader Captain Chancellor in 1553 sailed in search of a northern water route to the Far East. His ship was wrecked and he was sole survivor.

"After finding refuge in the old monastery of St. Michael the Archangel—whose domes and cupolas then were the only sign of life along the thickly wooded shores—Captain Chancellor set out by overland road to Moscow,' the bulletin continued. "There, in the capital of Ivan the Terrible, he made arrangements for trade between England and Russia which led to the establishment in 1584 of the first shipping facilities of Archangel."

Home-Mixed Syrup Relieves Coughs Quickly

Saves Big Dollars. So Easy! No Cooking.

The surprise of your life is waiting for you, in your own kitchen, when it comes to the relief of coughs due to colds. In just a moment, you can mix a cough syrup that gives you about 4 times as much for your money, and is amazing for quick results.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's no trouble at all. Then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle. Add your syrup, and you have a full pint of really wonderful cough medicine. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time, and children love it.

This home mixture takes right hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and quickly eases soreness and difficult breathing. You'll say it's astounding in its action.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

American Fleet Now Handing Japanese Continuous Surprises

By RALPH B. JORDAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD A MAN-O'-WAR WITH THE U. S. PACIFIC FLEET, Feb. 3.—Britain has said that her battles are won on the playing field of Eton, meaning of course that her men-at-arms carry into conflict the drive, resourcefulness and do-or-die spirit of eventual victory that marks their undergraduate athletic days.

From the course of the sea war thus far in the Pacific it appears that exactly the same may be said of Uncle Sam's forces afloat. Applying the technique of the nation's gridirons' diamonds and other playing fields, the officers and men of the Pacific fleet are teaching the Japanese that scoring first doesn't mean the game by a large margin.

The Yanks in far western waters were set back on their heels with the opening whistle, in fact before the referee had called time in or their first team was on the field. They lost the first score and the ball at Pearl Harbor. But the way they've bounced back with the vim, vigor and determination of any great team or people has obviously surprised and confounded the Japanese.

Recoup Lost Ground

The Americans got up off the ground, called in their reserves and at once started pounding and putting on the pressure. The Japanese seemed to think they'd ask for rain checks or a postponement. Their vicious comeback is something the Japanese don't seem able to comprehend. The heavy pressure is breaking the enemy. In the vernacular of sport, the Japanese don't seem able to take it. They can dish it out, but not take it.

And make no mistake, the pressure is on them, day and night. Using their ships like players on the gridiron, the Pacific fleet's high command is punishing, driving, sending out wide swift sweeps, and striking hard through the air. They're after the enemy's soft spots and when they find them they pound ruthlessly and relentlessly. There are no time-outs for the Japanese. They get no rest, and the pressure is increasing.

It's on the Americans, too, of course, to probably the same degree. It's a sort of a man-to-man war, or game of death, for the ships and weapons on both sides are good. But the Americans love this type of going. It's their way of life. They're getting lean, but hard, and stepping up the tempo all the time. The Japanese, however, obviously don't like it, and are going in for desperation moves.

Jap Subs Distracted

A concrete example is the bitter fight raging between American surface and air craft and Japanese submarines in these waters. The submersibles are being driven to distraction and destruction. An undisclosed number have going down under American explosives, never to rise again. Primarily, they have been the victims of pressure.

A sub must run on the surface a considerable portion of its time to re-charge the batteries which propel it when it is submerged. Usually it surfaces at night because it's less easily seen then. During daylight hours it likes to cruise submerged, but close to the surface so it can put up its periscope, take proper sights, slip in close to its target and fire with an excellent chance of success.

But that's just what the Japanese submarines can't do out this way. Our fast, light surface craft operate with such speed and effectiveness all night that the Japs don't dare surface, and therefore can't re-charge batteries when they should. And our planes from carriers and other ships such as the heavy cruiser from which this is being written, keep them down in the day time, and far enough down so that they can't get good periscope sights.

The result of this pressure is that the Japanese submarine captains are staying off instead of driving in and apparently firing by sound instead of sight. Their torpedoes are going wild, and their boats are wearing out fast.

It was probably in desperation that the Japanese submarine captain brought his craft to the surface in broad daylight so that aircraft of the force which this correspondent is with were able to trap it and shower it with bombs. If that one ever turns up again at his home port it will be a miracle ship to take its place beside the noted Flying Dutchman of sea lore—the vision seen by lonely seamen on dark nights in mysterious seas.

Recruit Student Nurses This Month

Pennsylvania Nursing Schools Are Expected To Help In Situation

RECRUIT STUDENT::
(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 3.—February has been set by Governor Arthur H. James as recruiting month for schools of nursing under the plan to enroll 50,000 young women to fill the need for trained nurses.

"The State Nurses' Association points out that in Pennsylvania there are 122 schools of nursing from which some 3,000 nurses are graduated and registered annually, but more qualified students for these schools are needed so that the population may have more adequate nursing care during the emergency, and the commonwealth well-prepared nurses to meet the needs of the post-war period,' Governor James declared.

A recent survey of 22 schools of nursing in the state revealed that there is a total of nearly 150 vacancies in the classes scheduled to enter next month.

Women Eager To Assist Nation

Are Willing To Train For Technical Jobs To Help Win War

WOMEN WORK FOR STATE HIGHWAY

By LEONARD APFELBAUM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—The old saying, "a woman's place is in the home" would be considered extremely unpatriotic today as American industry girds itself for an unprecedented effort to defeat totalitarianism.

When Uncle Sam, attired in his striped trousers and star-studded topper, points his finger and says "I want you," he isn't just referring to the men of the nation. This time, he also has his eye on the women.

And members of the so-called weaker sex are willing and eager to train themselves for technical jobs, heretofore the stronghold of the men.

Proof of this willingness to serve the nation is found in any one of the five institutions of higher learning in Pittsburgh where scores of girls are currently enrolled in engineering, draughting and computation courses.

Earn While Learning

And proof that Uncle Sam really wants the fair sex to dirty their hands in vital defense work is attested by the fact that in many instances he is willing to pay tuition fees while they study. The draughting course, for example, is one of 58 established for the government under the engineering, science, management and defense program by the University of Pittsburgh.

The Pennsylvania Department of Highways also stepped in with a helping hand for "the little woman." The state agency, faced with a serious shortage of trained workers, is responsible for a course in highway engineering. Twenty women, graduates of a class conducted at the University of Pittsburgh last summer, now have found positions with the department.

The rush of women to fill the gaps in vital defense plants caused by male enlistments in the armed forces, is expected to expand still faster now that the new war production board has fearlessly asked the millions of wives, sweethearts and mothers to call a halt to the knitting of woolen snuggies for soldiers.

The W.P.B., deciding that the wool can be put to much better use, has asked the females of the nation to stop the clicking of the needles except by specific orders from military commanders.

American women, who have always taken up the needles when their men folk grabbed the guns, now will be forced to turn their energy and initiative to more concrete defense measures.

A newspaper advertisement reaches many more people than a post card and therefore it does its job more cheaply.

This is a family —all of them want to buy things

This is a manufacturer —he makes things the family wants to buy

To let the family know what things he is making and where they can buy them, he must send messages to the family. In newspaper advertisements he can show the family what he makes, quote its price, tell where to buy it.

Because newspaper advertising reaches many families cheaply, it enables the manufacturer to sell many things; therefore, the cost of each of these things is reduced to each of these families.

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy . . . it helps keep the skin soft and pliable . . . thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin . . . for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Titans-Geneva Clash Tonight

Westminster Seeks Revenge In Return Go Billed For New Wilmington

GAME WILL START AT 8:15 O'CLOCK

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 3.—Eager to atone for last Thursday's surprise 49-46 setback, Westminster college's Titans anxiously await their return engagement with Geneva college, tonight at 8:15 o'clock in New Wilmington.

Westminster officials have made arrangements to accommodate a capacity gallery for the encore.

Titans Workout

The Titans, who have dropped their last two trays, returned to the hardwood last night for a workout. Rayz, Visciarelli and DeVenzio, the Geneva crack shots who contributed 38 of the 49 points toward the Covies' victory last week, were the center of conversation. Coach Washabaugh stressed the fact that the trio will have to be halted if the Titans expect to "pull out of this two game losing streak".

Their spirits buoyed by their second major upset of the season, the Genevans have assumed a "we did it once and we can do it again" attitude.

To remain in the picture for state championship honors, Westminster must topple the valley quintet. Fox, Ridl, Wasik, Spak and Dale Dunmire will comprise the Titans' starting lineup.

The local passers seek their ninth victory of the season against three losses. The skirmish, incidentally, brings the Westminsterites into the second half of their card.

In the preliminary, the Westminster reserves face the Geneva seconds at 7 o'clock. In last week's premlim, the Titan "jayvees" emerged with a 42-30 triumph.

The lineup:

Westminster		Geneva
Fox	F.	DeVenzio
Ridl	F.	Billie
Wasik	C.	Jersey
Spak	G.	Palmer
D. Dunmire	G.	Visciarelli

Games Wednesday In Church Loop

There will be three more games on the New Castle church floor card for Wednesday night at the "Y" floor, with the first game starting at 7:45 o'clock and finding the Third U. P. and St. Mary's teams tangling.

In hte second game the Central Christians will play the St. Vitus team, and in the third game the Central Presbyterians and St. George Greek "Fighting Spartans" will tangle in what will prove to be a crackerjack of a ball game, no doubt.

Two All-Star Baseball Games Will Be Played

Major League Magnates Decide On Two All-Star Games As Benefits For Soldiers

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Baseball, which will give its stars and its spirit to the nation during the coming year, today will decide just how many night games will be necessary, in 1942, for the greatest success of an all-out drive to aid national defense and the all important service relief funds. After almost eight hours of debate, major league executives agreed yesterday that an extension of from seven to 14 night games would be agreeable for the coming season but, because of one dissenting vote, decided to place the entire matter in the hands of Czar Kenesaw M. Landis, who will direct all legislation at a joint league meeting here early today.

Determined to raise a ball and bat fund of at least a half million dollars to provide baseball supplies for the men in the service, the majors decided (1) to play two all-star games instead of one this year and (2) to O. K. a plan which would insure the sale of defense stamps to baseball fanatics.

Second Keeps Up Winning Streak

Church League Leaders Hand Presbyterians Defeat, Epworth-Croton Also Win

The Second U. P. team, leaders of the New Castle church basketball league kept up its winning streak last night at the "Y" by trimming the fast First Presbyterian team 46 to 26, with the Pitzer brothers, Bob and Francis starring with 27 of the points between them.

In the first game the Croton team defeated the First Baptists 36 to 30 with Sheehy and Rob Nelson the outstanding stars for Croton and Jameson and Brest for the losers.

The final game found the Epworth team with too many big guns for Mahoning to handle, and it was 27 to 23 in favor of the East Siders. "Elmer Zeke" Wainio, the aging veteran was the star of the game with ten of the Epworth points.

AIMING AT 200 - - By Jack Sords

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—According to that mildewed gag, the school teacher is always putting somebody's bright young offspring on the shoulder with the serious paternalism of school teachers and saying:

"Son, I want you to study hard, be a good boy, and some day you will be a great man."

The professor undoubtedly would be thinking in terms of the arts or engineering or perhaps politics, but if junior happened to be a young gent who about this time was just beginning to feel his musicles the professor might as well have saved his breath. Men seemingly are born to get nowhere or to find their peak wherever it may be. If he is inclined toward athletics he may windup anywhere.

Mel Ott Tops

He may become a member of the Chicago Bears or an opponent for Joe Louis. He may have the good fortune as a baseball player to land with the New York Yankees or he may suffer a fate worse than death and find himself tied up by the Philadelphia Phillies.

Or he might land with the New York Giants at the age of 16 and go on from there as a fine citizen, a sterling sportsman and a gentleman. Such as Mel Ott, who will be 33 years old next month.

Mel Ott stands as a sort of shining example of the youth of the land. He hasn't got the fire of John McGraw, or the color of Babe Ruth or burning zeal and awe-inspiring ability of Rogers Hornsby. I just mention those three by way of telling you what he hasn't got. But what he offers is a quiet certainty about everything that may make him a fine manager and if so he will be scoring for every kid.

In any case he came to the Giants hitter many times, he was the re- at the age of 16, he was a leading cipient of a Mel Ott night last season, he was made managed of the club a couple of months ago and Monday night the New York Baseball Writers honored him for his services to the game over the years.

Ott Successful

Up to now he has been a great success and nothing can happen to change what has gone before. If he turns out to be a poor manager he still was good enough to make the majors at 16, to receive the adulation of fans at a game set apart for him, to receive appointment as manager and finally to be acclaimed for his part in the game.

Through it all he hasn't changed a bit, or he hasn't changed any way at any rate during the time that I have known him. He is one of those rare characters who is superior and yet so fine that even those who envy him do not rap him. That's a pretty good test, and I'm pretty sure that the old professor urging Junior on to better things would look upon Ott as a fine example or what he was talking about.

The little guy from Gretna, La., has not built any bridges, stopped any epidemics, run for the presidency of the United States, painted any masterpieces or made a million dollars, but he has retained the respect of everybody that knows him and he has hit the absolute peak in his chosen profession. In fact, he has gone even a little beyond the peak. He has been given managership of a major league ball club and an award for what he has contributed to theh game over the years, and few others have been able to qualify for both.

There is no point in going into his ability as a player beyond saying that he led his league as a slugger several times and was everlastingly a game, tough competitor without being loud or onery about it.

Professor, the next time you are talking to Junior about his future mention Mel Ott.

New Castle Men Good Fishermen

Word has been received from Skark river, Florida, of a recent catch of 103 fine fish that two well known New Castle men participated in—Louis McClung, former city treasurer and James P. Cope, automobile salesman.

Together with F. S. Leferson of Managuam, New Jersey, and Henry Lamke of Asbury Park, New Jersey, the New Castle men took part in a fishing expedition that produced the above mentioned total of fish the catch consisting of—channel bass, trout, snappers, grouper, jewfish, sheepshead, and about 25 "reds" and also some particularly fine snapper weighing between three and four pounds.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Having decisioned Freddy Lester of Pittsburgh in a torrid three round joust here recently, Les Leasure is training for his scheduled three round battle with Norman Fitch of Chester, W. Va., one week from Wednesday night in The Arena. The Leasure-Lester fight was one of the hottest and closest battles between amateurs in some time. The referee picked Lester as the winner but the judges said nay. However, it was a rapid-punch battle which called for a lot of assimilative quality. Fitch hasn't fought here in some months. If the coming embroglio should be as replete with action as the Lester-Leasure fight no fan will regret having attended the Infantile Paralysis fund show.

Slugging Hank Back In Army

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Hank Greenberg, slugging first baseman, is back in the army, it was revealed today.

He is attached to a reception center at Fort Dix, N. J., as a sergeant.

The former Detroit Tiger re-enlisted Friday and obtained a forty-eight hour pass to wind up his affairs in New York and attend the baseball writers banquet.

Greenberg was drafted, served a year and then was discharged under the twenty-eight-year age limit only to re-enlist as soon as possible after war with Japan and Germany was declared.

Anderson Signs Pirate Contract

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 3.—Alf Anderson, slated for the shortstop berth on the 1942 edition of the Pittsburgh Pirates, today had signed and placed in the mails his '42 contract, which he said called for a "satisfactory increase".

Anderson, a former star of the Atlanta club of the Southern Association, was a holdout last season, signing only a few days before the spring training season opened.

Anderson is expected to open at shortstop for the Bucs since Bill Cox has entered the army and the Brooklyn Dodgers have purchased Arky Vaughan.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Cleaning a lot of odd stuff scattered around the desk:

Softball, reports from various camps state, is one of the most popular sports among Uncle Sam's soldiers. Considering the little equipment needed, it's easy to understand why the pastime is the life of the party . . . . Alabama university has done quite well in the various bowl games. In six grid classics, the Bamas have netted $387,000.

When Purdue's defense clicks in basketball, it's really airtight Against Chicago, the Boilmakers limited the Chicago U. cagers to five points in the opening half. Michigan got only seven later over a similar stretch . . . . A survey conducted recently reveals that more than 50 per cent of America's golfers are 32 years old or older and that 65 per cent are from the sedentary ranks, guys who work sitting down most of the day, in fancy offices.

Bobby Riggs' recent magazine blast on his decision to turn pro and why sounded like Riggs—hard to understand . . . Madison Square Garden workmen changed the ice rink into a basketball court in two hours recently . . . . The International League waiver price of $2,500 will be in effect next year again. The American Association tag is $4,000.

Kenneth Farnes and I. A. R. Peebles, sorry to report, have been killed in the current struggle across the pond. They were famous English cricket stars . . . . Johnny Neun, at Kansas City, "Gabby" Hartnett, at Indianapolis, Eddie Dyer, at Columbus, and Truck Hannah, at St Paul, are new American Association managers.

Some colleges are trying a new system, letting cage officials perform their tooting from a coop above the hoops. A coupe of assistants on the floor take over the jump ball, out of bounds, etc. chores. The way the officiating seems to be getting in collegiate ranks, something should be tried.

Byron Nelson spent $20,000 in 10 years endeavoring to cop a California golf tournament before he finally won the Oakland Open. . . . Despite one of the biggest muffs in the history of baseball, Mickey Owens, of the Dodgers, is slated to get a pay boost . . . . A good incentive for a good little guy who took his medicine like a man.

Aliquippa Here Friday Night

New Castle Will Face Section Three Test On Friday Night At Washington Floor

New Castle's leadership of Section Three faces a severe testing on Friday night of this week, when the strong Aliquippa High team comes to the Washington High floor. The reserve teams of both schools will play the preliminary game at 7 o'clock.

Aliquippa is the only league team to defeat the New Castle boys this season, and for that reason the Bridenbaugh machine is mighty anxious to atone for that setback.

Expect Big Crowd

Indications point to a sell-out crowd for the Aliquippa game and the fans are urged to get to the Washington gym as early as possible as the seating capacity is limited.

A win for Aliquippa will put them into a tie with New Castle and Ambridge, providing the "Bridgers" can defeat the New Brighton High team at the New Brighton floor.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is fully satisfied with the team that he started last Friday against Butler—Bobby Lee and Joe Ciazza at the forwards, Gene Melichar at center and John Zubkowsky and Hen Burris at the guards. This combination with one or two more games under the belt, will be awfully hard to upset.

All-Star Battle For International

International League Will Play 154 Game Card; Opening On April 16

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—For the first time the International league will stage an all-star game next summer with receipts to be donated for the purchase of baseball equipment for service men in this country and in Canada.

League officials have decided on July 8 for the date and Buffalo for the site, President Frank Shaughnessy announced.

The leading players from Montreal, Buffalo, Rochester and Toronto, the other half of the league, will meet the leaders from the southern half, Newark, Jersey City, Syracuse and Baltimore. One-fourth of the proceeds will go to Canada and the remainder to the American armed forces.

A 154-game schedule was adopted, with the opening set for April 16.

BELL EMPLOYES TO DEFEND OWN INDUSTRY

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3.—Employes of the Bell Telephone company in Pennsylvania and New Jersey have been requested by company officials not to enlist in civilian defense activities which might keep them from reporting for regular duty in event of an air raid.

Pointing out that communications were vital to defense, the officials said the order affected 19,000 telephone workers in Pennsylvania and about 13,000 in New Jersey

Furnace Five To Battle Ellwood

Newly Organized Basketball Team Will Play Aetna Standard At Arena Tonight

New Castle is going to have a fast semi-pro five to represent the city this winter in basketball and they will use the spacious Arena floor as the home court, it was announced today by Ed. Richardson, owner of the Arena. Tony "Kane" Morgan will be the coach of the team, and Oscar Riley will be busniess manager.

The team will be known as the Old Furnace Five and will be made up of the members of the St. Vitus team. Tonight at 6 o'clock, the new semi-pro team will open with the Aetna Standard Five of Ellwood City at 6 o'clock. All players are to report at 5:30 o'clock for suits and jackets.

The following well known players will make up the Old Furnace Five: Rags Gennock, Nickie Gennock, Sammy Ciazza, Sammy Bullano, Petey Zingaro, Red Ross, Louis Santangelo, Lindy Lauro, Kane Morgan and Guido Santangelo. For games with the new team write to Kane Morgan at 917 South Mercer street, or call 5575-J.

IN AIR CORPS

Bert Leask, an Indian from Alaska, captain of this year's basketball team at the University of Dubuque, has quit school and joined the Army Air Corps.

Greyhounds Meet Wampum Tonight

Crucial Section 20 Game To Follow Geneva-Westminster Contest

THREE OTHER LOOP GAMES ON SCHEDULE

Resolved to remain in the heated battle for Section 20 honors, Wampum and New Wilmington High battle tonight in New Wilmington at the local loop swings into the second half stretch.

Because Geneva and Westminster also play in New Wilmington tonight, the Section 20 encounter will start following the collegiate battle, officials announced today.

Both Teams Hot

Wampum currently is traveling at top speed, having vanguished its last five opponents. The "Greyhounds," losers of two league verdicts by a one-point edge, sport a four-game winning spurt.

New Wilmington will lay special emphasis on halting Coy Craine, the district's Bob Gerber. The colored athlete has been peppering the rims at a better than 18-point average.

The Eagleson-coached quintet will endeavor to atone for a 21-20 setback administered by the Wampumites recently. The game, carded for Community floor, should attract a capacity crowd, as the rivals vie for second place honors.

High riding Bessemer High, leading the rank with seven consecutive triumphs and sporting an eight-game streak, entertains Mt. Jackson High. The leaders disposed of the Jackson quint earlier in the campaign, 29-22, in a hotly contested fray and confidently expect to duplicate.

Union At Brook

East Brook appears in the role of host again, clashing with Union Township High. On the short end of a 29-28 count earlier, the Brookers aim to even accounts with the Scotland Lane tossers.

Princeton High faces Shenango Township High on the East New Castle boards. Shenango spilled the Princeton dribblers, 24-17, recently.

New Castle High's gallant cagers are girding for their Friday night billing with Aliquippa High on George Washington Junior High in the top local attraction.

Colored League Starts Tonight

The New Castle Colored Church Basketball League will start its inaugural season tonight at 6:30 o'clock, when the Bethel team will battle the Second Baptists.

On the Bethel roster will be found the following well known colored stars: Jimmy Clark, who is also the manager, a former New Castle high star; Tom Farrow, Crunkleton, Thomas, I. Clark, Larry Roberts, Johnson and Daniels.

HOUSE LEAGUE GAME

The Jewels defeated the A. Z. A. quintet last night at the "Y" in a House League game by the count of 35 to 27, with Johnston, England, Stockman, I. Solomon and Marlin in starring roles. On Wednesday night the Pennsylvania Engineering Works will play the Celtics in a league game.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Had a little conversation with a chap Monday who has been in Pittsburgh Saturday when this storm came up . . . he was driving and his discourse on the subject was very interesting. He had no trouble whatsoever on the trip home . . . his trouble came when he arrived in New Castle . . . it was impossible to come down East Washington street . . . it was not ashed. All the hills and bad curves from Pittsburgh to New Castle were well ashed . . . surely the City Fathers can do better than they did Saturday night.

So the groundhog did see his shadow . . . that means according to an old saying that six weeks of cold rain or snow is still ahead of us. Well if we are going to have it, let's have it and get it over with. And there is no use talking about the weather . . . oh, yea, it does make good conversation when subjects run low.

There's a LIFE magazine that a Red Cross class would like to have . . . The week of September 25th, 1941 . . . it has to do with First Aid work. So if anyone has one of these magazines and would like to give it to this class, would you please call 5727-J or send it to this desk. We thank you for your cooperation.

Don't forget the boys in camp . . . we know they are not where you think they are . . . but the Army has a way of getting mail to them. So write and give them an idea of what is going on in their home town. And if you can, and they smoke, send on a carton or a few packages of cigarettes. That's one present that is always welcome. You can't do a whole lot on their monthly wages. Everyone in this United States can do a good chore during the duration. Let's see you start now.

Say, are you buying defense stamps. You know, a little here and a little there soon gives you a nice little bond. And every time you do put in a dime or more, you are saying "To Hell with the Dictators" . . . so let's buy. Let's show the world that New Castle will do more than it's share in keeping Freedom where it belongs.

And now a plug for our favorite page . . . the classified ad page. This page will work for you day and night . . . just try it right now.

Combined Price Averages Move Shade Higher During Morning

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The stock market continued apathetic today. Combined price averages moved a shade higher, but individual gains were extremely small and a number of representative stocks eased moderately.

Lima Locomotive was one of the few features in forenoon dealings, moving up about a half-point to a new 1941-42 peak of 31. Other rail equipments also improved fractionally.

Similar gains were chalked up by Bethlehem, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, International Nickel, General Electric, Union Pacific, Standard Oil of N. J., American Telephone, U. S. Rubber, Woolworth and Allied Chemical.

Case was independently weak, dropping more than a point on its first sale of the week. American Smelting, Texas Co., Coca-Cola, American Can, Reynolds Tobacco "B" and Proctor & Gamble each slipped fractionally.

General Motors held about unchanged.

INDUCEMENT

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—Apparently nature itself has conspired to make the production of honey—a natural food—as easy as posible. Flowers put out all kinds of inducements to attract bees. Some are highly colored others show little color but are rich with odor, nectar or pollen, or both. Some flowers—such as those of peas and beans—even go so far as to put out convenient little door steps to attract their visitors.

Legionnaires Hear Burgess Clyde Houk

Randolph Post Makes Final Arrangements For Big Americanism Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 3.—A very interesting talk on "The Life of Lincoln" was given to members of the J. Wilbur Randolph Post of the American Legion at the regular meeting last night at the Sixth street hall by Burgess Clyde B. Houk.

During the meeting conducted by Commander S. R. Berstler, final arrangements were made for the community Americanism meeting to be held on Tuesday evening, February 10, at 8 o'clock at the Lincoln high school auditorium. Dan Hartbauer, state chairman of Americanism, of Pittsburgh, will be the principal speaker, and a talk will also be given by Mrs. R. A. Russell, Western vice president of the Auxiliary and the Auxiliary state chairman of Americanism for 1941.

A total membership of 218 was reported, leaving the Post only 2 short of the year's quota. The junior rifle team will take part in the Hearst competition and members are now qualifying for the tournament.

Edward Mackasek reported that the penny-for-a-plane proposition will be launched in the near future. The Post agreed to present the booklet, "Fall In" to all draftees. The basement being constructed under the Post rooms is progressing and yesterday the asphalt title floor was laid. The new rooms will soon be ready for use.

Ray Wilson caught the kitty after which refreshments were served by mess sargeants, Zeigler and French. Monday, February 16, is the date of the next meeting.

Mrs. Lewis Kohn Reviews Book For Hadassah Society

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 3.—A delightful review of the book, "Jacob And His Sons" high-lighted the February meeting of the Hadassah society which took place last evening at the home of Mrs. Sam Medoff, Foch street.

The review was given by Mrs. Lewis Kohn, New Castle, who was presented by program chairman, Mrs. Aaron Caplan.

Most interesting reports of the conference held early in January in Pittsburgh were given. Members were pleased to learn that the Hadassah has been given priority by the U. S. and British governments for sending goods to Palestine, which is considered the food arsenal in the eastern hemisphere.

The Hadassah has made possible the sending of a brain specialist, Dr. Henry Weiggerston, of New York, to Palestine.

Mrs. Frank Sternberg, associate hostess, led the opening devotional period. After a social hour, the hostesses served appetizing refreshments.

On Monday, March 2, the society will meet at the Shapiro home, in Park avenue.

Mrs. John Harvath Entertains Class

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 3.—Mrs John Harvath pleasantly opened her home, fourth ward, last evening to members of the King's Messengers class of the Trinity Lutheran church. Mrs. Ralph Shaffer was associate hostess and conducted the opening devotionals.

Business was in charge of Mrs. Clarence Hollerman with plans being made to sew for the Red Cross at future meetings. Games and contests held the attention of the group with the nice awards going to Mrs. John Lindgrin and Mrs. S. C. Mullin. As the final feature, the 17 attending were served a tasty lunch by the hostesses.

AUXILIARY HAS MEETING MONDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb 3.—With Mrs. Leonard Maxwell in charge, a regular meeting of the Firemen's Auxiliary took place last evening at the Sixth street hall.

Various members made plans to attend the Western Auxiliary meeting to be held on Friday, February 20, at Whittaker, Pa. Bingo was the diversion, after which members departed to meet again on the first Monday of March.

Nutrition Talk Features Meeting Of Mothers' Club

Interesting Session Held Monday Night At Home Of Mrs. Edward Redman

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 3.—A most interesting meeting of the Mothers' Study club took place last evening at the home of Mrs. Edward Redman, Plymouth Lane and was largely attended.

The study period featured a most instructive talk on nutrition by Miss Bonita Gordon, county home extension worker, who also conducted an open discussion on the topic. The roll call was answered by suggestions for attractive ways to serve cereals and vegetables to children. Each member displayed a health posture and many helpful ideas were exchanged in that way.

Mrs. Paul Chapla was associate hostess and aided Mrs. Redman in serving a refreshing lunch.

Another meeting will be held on Monday, February 16, at the home of Mrs. Carl W. Brown, 217 Spring avenue. "Habits Do Not Just Happen" will be the discussion topic to be presented by Mrs. W. E. Durstine and Mrs. G. B. Plunkett.

Mrs. E. B. Yahn Welcomes Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 3.—Mrs. E. B. Yahn was a gracious hostess to members of the Monday night club last evening at her home, in Spring avenue Mrs. Walter P. Simpson shared as a special guest and was presented with a pretty guest favor.

Cards held the attention of the group at two tables with the high score honor going to Mrs. George Dambach. The hostess served a tempting lunch, assisted by Mrs. Catherine Charles.

Another meeting will be held on Monday, February 16, at the home of Mrs. Loren Springer, Sixth street.

Ellwood To Plan For Anniversary

Fiftieth Birthday To Be Celebrated—Program To Be Arranged

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 3.—Ellwood City will definitely plan for a week of celebration in honor of its 50th birthday at a date to be set by the executive committee of th 50th anniversary.

The Chamber of Commerce will under-write the celebration and full cooperation on making the affair a success is expected to be pledged at the regular borough council meeting on Thursday evening. Advertising material for the celebration will be ordered and special committees are expected to be appointed within the next few weeks so that ample time will be given each committeee to function properly.

The pageant for the celebration is expected to be an appropriate patriotic awe inspiring out-door spectacle of "America On Parade."

Representatives of the borough council and the Chamber of Commerce anniversary committee agreed upon holding the anniversary celebration because it would give Ellwood City an opportunity to build civilian morale. Every civic, patriotic, nationality and fraternal organization will have representatives on the committee to be selected by the executive committee.

Truck Crops In State Increased

Pennsylvania Truck Growers Increase Yield By Forty Per Cent Last Year

PRICE RETURN ALSO INCREASED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 3.—Food demands of the nation's defense program boosted production of Pennsylvania's four principal truck crops last year more than 40 per cent. above 1940 yields, John H. Light, secretary of agriculture, revealed.

Crop values in 1941 were placed at $3,481,000 as compared with $2,317,000 the year before, Light added. They included: Tomatoes, $2,512,000; green peas, $482,000; sweet corn, $334,000, and snap beans, $153,000.

The values of the 10 leading truck crops marketed in the state last year showed an increased of 38 per cent. over 1940, or $5,356,000 in 1941 as compared with $3,888,000 the year before.

The total acreage of crops was placed at 44,260 during 1941 as compared with 40,400 in the previous year—an increase of 10 per cent., and Light said production of all crops was "considerably above the yield per acre with all but snapbeans being above the 10-year average."

Indicative of the increasing values of farm lands under the nation's defense program, Light said that 1941 values included $121.94 per acre for tomato producing lands as compared with $75.58 the year before and the 10-year average of $75.43.

The acreages of asparagus, snapbeans, beets and onions were about the same during the 1941 season, Light said, while increased plantings were reported of lettuce, tomatoes and spinach—but not sufficient to offset a slump in the acreage alloted to carrots, cabbage and celery.

Because of the difficulty of obtaining veterinarians, a change in the plan under which cattle are tested for tuberculosis in the commonwealth has been announced by the Department of Agriculture. Light explained:

"Areas in which retests of all cattle show an infection of not more than two tenths of one per cent. may remain in the modified accredited status for a period of six years from the date of demodification instead of being required to undergo tests each three years which has been the system followed up to this time."

The extension of the test period from three to six years is not expected to jeopardize the position Pennsylvania has attained towards eradicating the disease, because of the low degree of infection of tuberculosis in the state's cattle.

DEDUCTIONS FOR PROFESSIONAL EXPENSES

A professional man may deduct all necessary expenses incurred in the pursuit of his profession. These include the cost of supplies used in his practice, office rent, cost of light, water, fuel, and telephone in his office, the hire of office assistants, and expenses paid in the operation and repair of an automobile, based upon the proportion of time it is used for professional purposes.

Many physicians use their residences both as their offices and their homes. In such instance the physician may deduct as a business expense the rental value of the rooms occupied for office purposes if he actually pays rent, and also the cost of light and heat furnished these rooms. Alsco, he may deduct a portion of the wages paid domestic servants whose time is partly occupied in caring for these rooms. Membership dues in professional societies are deductible. Physicians and dentists who keep in their waiting rooms current magazines and newspapers for the benefit of their patients may deduct this item as a business expense. The cost of professional journals for the taxpayer's own use is also a deductible item.

The cost of technical books is not a deductible item, being a capital expenditure, but a proportionate amount for each year's depreciation of the books may be deducted. Depreciation may also be taken on office furniture and equipment. Insurance premiums on office or other professional equipment and liability insurance may be deducted. A premium paid for automobile liability insurance should be apportioned and that part of the premium attributable to business may be deducted as a business expense.

General Boosts Scrapple At Camp

Brings 20 Pounds To Shelby On Return From Philadelphia

By JOHN BALL

(Special News Correspondent)

CAMP SHELBY, Miss., Jan. 29.—Perhaps it was that the New Orleans officers of the 141st Field Artillery boasted a bit about their creole cusine back home. Or perhaps it was that the general just had a hankering for real "Philadelphia Scrapple."

Anyway, it was twenty pounds of the breakfast delicacy popular among Pennsylvanians that Brigadier General William A. March, commanding general of the 73rd Field Artillery Brigade, brought with him when he returned from a visit to his home state.

Proud of the distinctive dish, the general made a point of serving it to Southern officers of his command, such as Lieutenant Colonel Lucien J. Moret of New Orleans, Brigade S-3.

But the first offering by the general, though it brought none but pleasant comments from the guests, was not to the general's own taste. It seems that the cook in the officers' mess was not familiar with the fine points of cooking scrapple.

So the general, donning an apron, did the culinary honors himself.

Police Tests Here Monday Night

Those Who Pass Eligible For Coming 12 Months In New Castle

Candidates for the city police force will be given an examination next Monday night in city hall by members of the civil service board. The former list of eligibles expired recently. The prospective new list will be valid for one year.

Approximately six men have been employed temporarily, or for 10 days period, for some time.

During council meeting Monday it was indicated the civil service board for firemen and also for police, may be asked if it is possible for the board to change its rules so that men may be appointed for the war time period, and hold the status of a temporary fireman. If such a rule is made it is believed by council, in the absence of a legal opinion, to escape paying compensation to men called to military service.

The regulations for the coming examination say that all applications must be presented not later than 12 a. m. Thursday and all applicants must be 21 years of age and not over 40 years of age, five feet eight inches tall and weigh 140 pounds.

Detroit Man Shot Down Two Of Jap Planes In Hawaii

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Feb. 3.—Credited with downing at least two Jap dive bombers during the attack on Pearl Harbor, Jack Cole, 22, a navy fireman third class, declared today that the enemy "got a lot more than they expected even though they did take us by surprise."

Home to recover from a jaw wound sustained in the attack, Cole said service men stationed at the Hawaiian post were "really pleased with the coolness and ability of the 'teen-age kids in our outfit."

Cole was wounded while manning an anti-aircraft gun.
